BRITISH GOVERNMENT MAY START INQUIRY INTO ARMS TRAFFIC

Sir John Simon Indicates Plans Being Considered to Make Study of State Monopoly Proposal From Viewpoint of National Security—Opposes Any "Fishing Inquiry"

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP).—The British Government is set up an inquiry into the subject of traffic in arms. It was learned authoritatively but unofficially tonight. The exact form the inquiry will take has not yet been determined, but it is not proposed that any ministers shall be members of the tribunal.

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, indicated to the House of Commons early this evening that an inquiry into the subject along certain lines would be regarded favorably. He did not, however, say that the investigation had been decided upon.

NO FISHING EXPEDITION

Sir John told the House the Government would oppose any "fishing inquiry" dealing with rumors concerning conduct of the arms trade, but said an inquiry which really studied the proposal to a state monopoly from the viewpoint of national security and the like was "a very different thing."

The Foreign Secretary outlined the points which the hearing should cover, giving the impression he would favor such an investigation. Sir John insisted that Britain still is strongly in favor of arms control, citing her prompt ratification of the arms traffic convention of 1925 which, he said, "remains ratified" as far as Britain is concerned.

OUTSIDE CONVENTION

He noted that "five or six principal arms manufacturing countries" have not yet ratified the convention, naming Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Japan, Germany and the United States. "That is disappointing," he said.

The Foreign Secretary declared that Great Britain, with others, had

SAFEGUARDS IN PLAN ESSENTIAL

Lord Linlithgow Says Limitations Necessary in Self-Government Scheme

LONDON, Nov. 22 (CP).—Lord Linlithgow, chairman of the select parliamentary committee which drew up the report on Indian Government reform, tonight pointed out that safeguards in any scheme of self-government in India are absolutely necessary.

The report, which is to form the basis of the Government's bill that will be debated by Parliament for several months before India finally attains self-government with safeguards, has been attacked by extremists on both sides as, first, going too far, and second, not going far enough. But the great bulk of moderate opinion in between seems to have accepted it as a statesmanlike compromise.

IN MOST CONSTITUTIONS

Lord Linlithgow declared safeguards in some form or other exist in most constitutions, and no less in the constitution of Britain herself, though their existence here is often forgotten, "because without long parliamentary traditions the need for emphasizing them has largely disappeared, and because they are for the most part based on custom and convention and not on statutory enactment."

Safeguards, around which most of the criticism centres, "in the present circumstances in India are in truth a necessary complement to any form of responsible government," declared Lord Linlithgow, "and without them it would have little hope of success."

RADIO FAN GETS ULTRA-RECEPTION

Speculating as to Whether Mysterious Message Came From Some Other Planet

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Nov. 22 (AP).—Raymond Stephens, radio experimenter, wondered today whether he had received signals from some distant planet.

He said he was working on an ultra short-wave apparatus when he picked up signals on a frequency of 3,000 megacycles, and that the signals did not conform to any known code. After examining all of the codes, he found nothing that resembled the dots and dashes that he has received.

In order to send messages over such a frequency the transmitting set would have to be vastly more powerful than anything ever used by radio operators in the world, amateur or otherwise, he said.

NO CONSENT TO EQUALITY

Sir John Simon Emphasizes British Opposition to Japanese Demand

LONDON, Nov. 22 (CP).—Britain's opposition to the Japanese demand for parity in naval fleets was again voiced for the British Government, today, by Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, in the House of Commons.

Without mentioning Japan by name, Sir John told the House "that the Japanese demand for equality compares unfavorably with that of others is an unquestioned right of the world."

mean, of course, that all fleets should, in fact, be equal in size.

VARIED CONDITIONS

"That depends on the nature of responsibilities and other things in each case, and the whole purpose of our discussions here is to reach, if possible, a basis on which understanding can be reached without endangering the sense of security of anybody."

Sir John, making a statement on the naval parleys between Britain, the United States and Japan, which have apparently reached an impasse over the Japanese demand, reiterated that Great Britain will continue every effort to bring about a continued agreement for naval limitation.

"A breakdown of the system of naval limitation," said the Foreign Secretary, "would be a great disaster for everybody, not merely for the powers now in consultation, but for the world at large."

DOING THE UTMOST

"We are doing our utmost in the most amicable way, and, while I do not, dismiss the difficulties of the problem, for it would be foolish to do so, there is nothing this country is not prepared to do within the limits of its duty to this country and this Empire to secure a naval understanding."

ULM READY TO HOP TO DETROIT

Australian Airman Will Take Off This Morning if Weather Favorable

MONTREAL, Nov. 22 (CP).—A take-off for Detroit from St. Hubert Airport here will be made tomorrow morning by Captain Charles T. P. Ulm providing the weather is favorable, the Australian, who hopes to span the Pacific Ocean from Vancouver to Melbourne, announced tonight.

Weather reports, however, were not encouraging. The Dominion Meteorological Bureau announced a large low-pressure area over the Great Lakes, with snow, ice and rain reported in the surrounding district.

ADJUSTMENTS MADE

Final adjustments and test loads were made to the twin-motored monoplane, upon which was painted its name, "Stella-Australia." Ulm and his companions, J. L. Skillings, navigator, and George Littlejohn, co-pilot, were assisted in checking over the machine by Royal Air Force mechanics.

The plane was ordered in readiness for 8 a.m., when, weather permitting, the hop to Detroit will be undertaken. Ulm would not say what route he would follow to bring him from the United States city to Vancouver.

Women Establish Altitude Record

VILLA COULAY, France, Nov. 22 (CP-Havas).—Mme. de Lacombe and Mile. Aube claimed a new world altitude women's flight record today for light two-seater planes, after reportedly reaching a height of 17,388 feet. The previous record was 15,371 feet. The barograph was sealed for an official check.

Figures in Galapagos Death Mystery

A fishing boat captain who chanced to anchor for a spell under the rocky cliffs of lonely Marchena Island, in the Galapagos group off Ecuador, South America, reported finding the bodies of two men. Photo shows Frank Wittmer, his wife, their two-year-old baby and Wittmer's blind fourteen-year-old son by a previous marriage. The picture of the family group was taken as they appeared when G. Allen Hitchcock, Los Angeles oil magnate, visited the island on a yachting cruise last February.

Prince of Wales Makes Strong Plea for Removal of Slums

LONDON, Nov. 22 (CP).—A strong plea for mass production of houses and complete sweeping away of the slums was uttered by the Prince of Wales, tonight, speaking at the centenary dinner of the Royal Institute of British Architects.

"I ask you to carry the principle of mass production to architecture and the building trades," declared the Prince. "In no other way will it be possible to raise the living conditions of a great majority of people. They should have better conditions, and they can have them by this means. I am equally sure you can do it and overcome any barriers of prejudice that may exist."

Wide Powers Given Fraser Milk Board Under B.C. Statute

Dairy Products Board to Take Office on December 1 and Will First Conduct Registration of Producers—Pools, Penalties, Privileges Stated

CREATED this week by the Provincial Government, the Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board has been given wide powers to create pools, determine the spread between producer and consumer, pass regulatory orders, and impose fines or imprisonment for their breach. The new board will take office on December 1. Its first mission will be to register milk vending producers in the Fraser Valley T.B.-free area who have more than two cows.

University Closed After Disorders in Yugoslav City

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia, Nov. 22 (AP).—Nationalist students held fiery demonstrations in favor of the established Belgrade Government, today; others came out against it while a third group displayed red flags and shouted "long live the Croatian Soviet Republic."

As a result of the disorders the local university was closed for a period of eight days. A number of Communist students were arrested.

Remains Found Near Prince Rupert Believed Those of Cadborosaurus

SCIENTISTS UNABLE TO IDENTIFY BODY

PRINCE RUPERT, Nov. 22 (CP).—Cadborosaurus, the sea serpent which splashed through British Columbia waters to international fame, with many public appearances reported during the past year, may be dead.

Amateur opinion here is that the badly-decomposed remains of a weird monster found on Henry Island are those of the amiable "Caddy," who derived his name from the scene of his first reported public appearance, Cadboro Bay, Victoria.

Dr. Neal Carter, director of the Prince Rupert Dominion Fisheries Experimental Station, investigated reports that a marine monster's body had been seen on the beach of the tiny island off the north end of Porcher Island, south of here.

The fisheries expert found the reports true, and, after making careful measurements and examination of the rotting heap of bone, skin,

GIVEN FREE REIN FOR EXPENDITURE

All Appropriations for Defence of Country Approved by French Chamber of Deputies

PARIS, Nov. 22 (AP).—A longer period of compulsory military service for French citizens, to increase the size of the French army as an answer to the German "challenge," was believed in Government circles tonight to be imminent.

Earlier, the financial committee of the Chamber of Deputies had given the Government virtually free rein for military expenditures by approving all appropriations judged necessary by the Government for defence of the country.

Trumpeter Swans Seen on Island Protected by Law

GENERAL warning was issued to British Columbia hunters yesterday by Francis Kermodie, director of the Provincial Museum, that wild swans are protected under the International Migratory Birds Act, and must not be shot. Vancouver Island has been visited again this year by a band of thirty-seven "trumpeter" swans. Already two have been shot, one being wounded near Errington, and the other killed outright at Lost Lake, Saanich, yesterday. If the swans are left unmolested, they will return yearly in larger numbers, it is said.

Hon. H. H. Stevens Declares His Intentions in Probing Mass Buying

ONTARIO, Nov. 22 (CP).—Noting that he would call for the heads of the heads of the T. Eaton Company and other large corporations investigated before the Royal Commission on Price Spreads and Mass Buying, and also that he would tolerate no aspersions or innuendoes from other members respecting his conduct of the inquiry in earlier stages, was served by Hon. H. H. Stevens today.

The former Minister of Trade and Commerce and chairman of the commission, enlivened today's proceedings by engaging in a tilt with E. J. Young (Liberal, Weyburn), and Sam Farrow (Liberal, Toronto West Centre), and announcing he would ask for the appearance of the heads of the large corporations.

GROCERIA BUSINESS

The latter announcement came when the commission was investigating the groceries operated by the T. Eaton Company. Most of the stores in Ontario showed consistent losses although those in Western Canada earned profits.

When a question was raised as to the value of profit or loss figures on

Shopkeeper Is Tired of Robberies

WINNIPEG, Nov. 22 (CP).—Sam Dubinoff, West End grocery store proprietor, was tired of being held up. Six times in five years had bandits raided his little store and cleaned him out. Today he decided to put a stop to it.

Two gunmen swept into the shop and in the approved manner threatened him with a revolver. "With-out: stopping to think," in Sam's own words, he grabbed the weapon. The bandits fled. The revolver contained five cartridges.

Herring Reduction Banned by Province During This Season

West Coast Reduction Plants Advised They May Not Operate Because Dry Salteries Are Making Heavy Inroads on Shoaling Fish

IN a sudden move, yesterday, the British Columbia Government banned herring reduction on the West Coast of Vancouver Island for this year. Hon. G. S. Pearson announced no herring reduction licences would be issued, after consultation with W. A. Found, deputy minister of the Federal Department of Fisheries.

While the suddenness of the decision may cause some inconvenience on the West Coast, where herring dry salteries are gutted with a bumper catch, and reduction plants were preparing to open, the move is explained as necessary in the interests of conservation.

HAD $170,000 VALUE

Last year 4,500 tons of herring meal, worth $135,000, and 326,000 gallons of oil, worth $34,000, were secured by reduction plants, giving employment to about 100 men. This year the province took authority to licence reduction plants, with a view to regulating unlimited operation, and was at one time prepared to permit herring reduction within reasonable limits. Representations were made, how-

Minister of War Threatens to Resign If Demands Not Met—Finance Head Fails in Efforts to Keep Defence Appropriations Within Limits of Current Budget

Large Sums Demanded for New Ships and New Weapons

TOKIO, Nov. 23 (AP).—The Japanese Cabinet, today, voted more than one billion yen for army and navy expenditures next year, in a heated session, during which General Senjuro Hayashi, Minister of War, threatened to resign unless his demands were met. The appropriations were the largest in the history of the empire.

For fourteen hours, ending at 3:30 a.m., today, the Cabinet wrestled with the problem of a huge deficit and requests of the army and navy, which emerged victorious.

Waves Dash Over High Lighthouse

PORTLAND, Nov. 22 (AP).—A booming sea tonight sent waves completely over the Tillamook Rock lighthouse, where nine occupants holed in to "ride out" the storm.

R. R. Tinkham, district superintendent of lighthouses, said he received short-wave radio reports through his vessel, the Albatross, from the keeper that waves were breaking on the sides of the half-acre rock and washing completely over the lantern, which is 132 feet above high water level.

Tinkham said in such a storm there always is danger that panels of the huge lantern may be shattered by rocks belched up by the seas.

LIMITATIONS BY TREATY ABSURD

Japanese Foreign Minister Wants Britain and U.S. to Make Sacrifices

TOKIO, Nov. 23 (AP).—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, in a broadcast to young men's associations and patriotic organizations throughout the empire, today referred to "the absurd limitations imposed by the Washington and London treaties." Hirota declared Japan would abolish offensive ships if other nations would do likewise.

"If other powers would agree," he said, Japan is prepared to abolish all capital ships, heavy cruisers and aircraft carriers. Japan is anxious about her security, owing to the absurd limitations imposed by the Washington and London Treaties.

"Let Britain and America, at present maintaining the largest armaments, set the example and make considerable sacrifices. Then peace among Japan, the United States and Great Britain, and even world peace, would be assured."

"Our foreign policy conforms with the Japanese race's inherent love of peace, and with this conviction, we Japanese address the

HAS HUGE DEFICIT

Of the total budget of 2,210,000,000 (about $627,000,000), the army was given 490,000,000 yen and the navy 530,000,000 yen. The budget deficit was announced as 750,000,000 yen ($213,000,000).

The arguments during the long debate were not made public. For months, however, propaganda had prepared the nation for enlarged appropriations. First, these were intended to insure a navy built fully to the limits of the London treaty by the end of 1936, in order to be advantageously placed for a building race which was seen as likely to follow any break-up of the present system of limitations, and second, to prepare the army for any warlike eventualities on the Continent. The War Office publications say the Soviet still is a menace to Japan's interests on the Continent.

DETAILS NOT PUBLISHED

The details of the defence estimates were not published, but the navy demanded 171,000,000 yen for new construction, 76,000,000 for maintenance of new ships, 44,000,000 for modernization of warships, 34,000,000 for expansion and maintenance of the air force, and 15,000,000 yen for new weapons.

The principal demands of the army were 101,000,000 yen for new

HUNGARY SEEKS EARLY INQUIRY

Delegate to League Vigorously Protests Against Jugoslav Charges

GENEVA, Nov. 22 (AP).—A formal charge of Hungarian "complicity" in the Marseille murder which Jugoslavia lodged with the League of Nations today, drew vigorous protests from Tiber Ekkhardt, Hungarian delegate, who reached Geneva tonight.

"I protest against these felonies, which I characterize as an act of international terrorism," he said.

"The revolting Jugoslav allegations surprise me. The object of the note is clear: It tries to turn opinion from the real causes of the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and to ruin the moral integrity of Hungary."

ASKS FOR INVESTIGATION

A strongly-worded letter that M. Fotich, Jugoslav delegate to the League of Nations, sent to J. A. C. Avenol, League secretary-general, asked the League council to investigate terrorist activities "troubling the peace of Central Europe" which culminated with the assassination of the Yugoslav King, Alexander, last month.

Czechoslovakia and Rumania, Jugoslavia's sister members of the League, sent similar letters to Avenol supporting the Jugoslav stand, while officials of Greece and Turkey, Jugoslavia's Balkan neighbors, expressed open sympathy. Meanwhile, Hungarian delegates to the League began preparing their reply.

CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY EVENING

Burns Club Entertained by Officers and Executive With Social

Officers and members of the executive were "at home" to members of the Victoria Burns Club in the New Thought Temple Hall, Port Street, last night, and an evening of musical numbers was enjoyed, followed by refreshments.

The guest of honor was Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, and an active member of the Victoria Club. On his arrival, he was escorted to his chair by Pipe-Major Donald Cameron with the pipes, and was given a tremendous ovation by his fellow members.

The affair was of a social nature and no business was transacted. Mr. Bruce being the only speaker. In his short address, in which he expressed his appreciation of the welcome and the pleasure it gave him to again be present at a gathering of the Burns Club after his journey abroad, Mr. Bruce related some of the humorous incidents of his visits to foreign lands. He was in Italy, Germany and Switzerland before crossing, by plane, to England and Scotland.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

W. A. Jameson, president of the club, was chairman, and was assisted by members of the executive committee. The musical programme consisted of the customary pipe selection by Pipe-Major Donald Cameron, after which Mr. Jameson extended a hearty welcome to the members, both new and old.

The programme consisted of the following numbers: Solos by Miss C. Denison, Rev. D. A. Smith (vicar), Mrs. McRae and Edward Pearson; pipe selection by Donald Cameron; recitation by Miss E. Morley; and piano selections by Mrs. Jaffray. William Harkness who claims to be the only Scottish magician on the Pacific Coast, entertained with a number of interesting and mystifying tricks. Miss Jessie Smith was the accompanist for the solos.

HEADS MUST BE EXAMINED

Individual stores, Mr. Stevens said, the information was needed and he would ask the heads of the concern to explain it.

He would want to know, he said, why a large institution like Eaton's should operate grocery stores all over Ontario, in nearly all the good towns, most of them losing money every year but setting the terms of competition in those towns for local business men who had no other source of profit.

The commission today concluded its inquiry into the chain of Liggett Drug Stores and made a brief survey of the United Drug Company, parent company of Liggett's. It also looked into the business of the Drug Trading Company, an organization of independent druggists and its affiliate, the Independent Druggists' Alliance.

PROVOKING SUGGESTION

It was the brevity of the report on the United Drug Company which provoked a tilt between Mr. Stevens and the Liberals. Mr. Young said this was a manufacturing company and should have a more extended study to find out what manufacturers had to do with price spreads. Mr. Fagor suggested the inquiry always stopped short at manufacturers and that only one side of the picture was being presented.

"When the committee started the investigation we did authorize the chairman and counsel to instruct auditors," said Mr. Young, "but we thought they would give impartial instructions. We did not think they would send them out to bring out certain things against some people and shield others."

"I have been sitting here for three weeks listening to innuendoes from Mr. Young," said Mr. Stevens, "and I do not propose to listen to them any longer. I want to say that no special instructions were given to any of these companies."

FULLY INVESTIGATED

The discussion also brought out the statement that a full investigation had been made by auditors into a number of manufacturing concerns, and reports on these would be presented later.

In the examination into the affairs of the Louis K. Liggett chain of drug stores, Herbert W. Driver, Toronto auditor, said allowances to the company from manufacturers last year amounted in all to $11,960. In 1933, Liggett's spent $59,017 in advertising, of which $36,344 was spent with newspapers. Of the total the company recouped itself to the extent of $5,272 from manufacturers whose brands it advertised.

NO PRIVATE BRANDS

The Liggett Company had no private brands but about 20 per cent of the goods sold were "Rexall" products bought from its parent company, the United Drug Company. These brands were available to any druggist who became a "Rexall" agent.

Members of the commission were anxious to know why Liggett had operated at a loss while Tamblin's had made profits, but Mr. Driver was unable to say. Neither could he say if the losses were due to the prices charged Liggett's by United Drug Company on goods sold. Officials of the company, he said, had told him "Rexall" products were provided Liggett's on the same price basis as to other "Rexall" agents.

Net loss in the past eleven years had aggregated $273,272. This had meant an impairment of surplus and the United Drug Company had made two large debt cancellations. The gross profit realized by the Liggett Company during 1933 was:

	On Cost	On Sales
Drugs	88.44%	46.78%
Sundry	43.22%	30.22%
Cigars	48.02%	32.44%
Average	28.34%	20.85%
Soda Fountain	43.50%	52.38%

"The gross profit of the soda fountain is somewhat deceptive," said Mr. Driver, "in that the cost includes only food and supplies and not the wages of preparing and serving."

THE WAGE SCALE

Liggett's store managers were paid an average of $38.82 for a sixty-hour week, said Mr. Driver. The average wage of assistant managers was $21.75, while regular male clerks received $15 on an average. The wage of regular female clerks ranged from $10 to $23 for a week or fifty hours.

Porters were paid from $10 to $19; messenger boys $5 to $9; soda fountain managers from $14 to $27.90, and clerks from $7 to $15. Sign and window dressers averaged $35.95 a week.

Sixteen warehouse employees received from $11 to $41.55, and the range of wages for office employees was from $8 to $80.77, with female office employees being paid from $10 to $32.

EXPECTS TO EXAMINE PORTION OF MONSTER

hair and quills, had it dissected and brought to Prince Rupert, where he is supervising its reassemblage. The horse-like head of Dr. Carter's trophy has brought confusion to the skeptics who have openly scoffed at reports of Caddy's existence. The famous sea serpent has been variously described as having a head like a horse or a camel.

Some witnesses of Caddy's gamboling in Pacific waters say the creature has a serrated back. Others described the serpent's skin as smooth, and this difference led to the belief that Caddy was a fake. Amy.

HAIR AND SPINES

The Henry Island monster might have been either, for the upper part was covered with hair and the lower part of the skin dotted with peculiar quill-like spines. Four fins or flapper-like projections about four feet long were attached to the body. One was found about four feet from the head and another about twenty feet back. They are believed to have been in pairs, although only two were still attached. Dr. Carter stated the intact portion of the vertebrae measured, from tip to snout, twenty-three feet, but odd pieces of bone found nearby were placed as nearly as possible in position, judging by the taper of the spinal column, and they indicated the creature in life was probably about thirty feet long.

FLESH IS RED

Flesh clinging to the backbone was red, and Dr. Carter believes this indicated the creature was some sort of warm-blooded mammal. Dr. Carter estimates the monster was about two feet in diameter at the most bulky point. The lower jaw is missing and there is no sign of teeth.

Experts here have been unable to classify the remains, and Dr. Carter plans to send the head and some of the flesh, with part of the vertebrae, to the Biological Station at Nanaimo, B.C., in the hope experts there may be able to identify it.

City-Commissioner W. J. Alder has expressed the desirability of keeping the skeleton in Prince Rupert as a permanent exhibit in connection with the city museum, and the parts sent to Nanaimo will be returned as soon as possible.

The possibility that more than one such monster has existed in British Columbia waters is seen in the claim of Bob Ives, Prince Rupert, who said a similar skeleton was found on the shores of Burrard Inlet, Vancouver, twenty years ago.

The Henry Island creature was first reported seen by a fisherman, H. Sundstrum. Dr. Carter went to investigate in the fisheries patrol boat, and, after experiencing extreme difficulty in navigating through rocks which blocked the inlet above which the creature was reported to be lying, succeeded in landing.

The remains were lying on the beach, just below high water mark, and Dr. Carter believes the creature was left stranded in the inlet, possibly having been trapped by the rocks when the tide went down. Another theory is that the monster may have fled there for safety to escape some unknown enemy, or that it may have gone to die of old age.

ATTRACTED BY SEAGULLS

Hugo Sanstrum, the man who found the sea monster remains, was attracted to the find by seagulls crying over the carcass. Sanstrum had been a member of the vessel Albatross which, in the late '90s, carried north a group of scientists who dredged the ocean bottom and preserved many marine specimens. The experiences of that trip made Sanstrum realize the value of his discovery, and he brought specimens of it to Prince Rupert. Dr. Carter went to the scene of the finding, Henry Island, to investigate. He thinks Sanstrum should be rewarded in some way for bringing the discovery to light.

Since the find, fishermen have reported seeing the creature alive. One man said he saw it raise its head four feet above the water, about a year ago.

AGENT CHARGED WITH STEALING

A. K. Henderson, Vancouver Insurance Man, Accused of Theft of $13.80

All day yesterday, Police Magistrate Jay was occupied with a rather unusual case, one in which C. E. Straker, as informant, alleged that a prominent insurance agent in Vancouver, Alexander K. Henderson, was guilty of stealing $13.80 from him.

Mr. Straker, who had been an insurance agent in Victoria a few years ago, operating under Mr. Henderson, alleged that, on terminating his engagement with the accused, he had settled up with him and that nothing more was coming to Mr. Henderson, when the latter collected from a Victorian who held a policy the sum represented in the charge, which sum should have been paid to Mr. Straker.

Somewhat early in the proceedings, Magistrate Jay asked if the matter was not in the wrong court. Should it not be tried in the Small Debts Court, he suggested.

W. H. Bullock-Webster, counsel for the accused, was of the opinion that that was where it should be tried, but C. E. Harrison met this with the statement that if Mr. Henderson collected money that belonged to Mr. Straker after the closing of the accounts between the two, then Mr. Henderson was guilty of theft.

CASE PROCEEDS

The magistrate proceeded with the case, taking the evidence which included that given by E. V. Finland, who had represented Mr. Straker, and Roy Manzer, who had acted as solicitor for Mr. Henderson in closing up the account between the informant and the accused.

During the progress of the case, Mr. Straker said that the accused had injured him in business by stating in a letter that he, Mr. Henderson, had been put to a lot of trouble and to over $50 expense in clearing up the affairs between them.

Mr. Harrison declared that the statement in the letter was false, as the evidence of Mr. Manzer, who acted for Mr. Henderson, showed that it had cost less than $25 for his services.

The case was brought to a rather abrupt ending when Mr. Harrison proposed to adjourn the hearing in order to allow Mr. Henderson to bring his books to show the transaction connected with the $13.80 collection forming the crux of the charge.

The writing of a letter in November, 1932, to the Victoria holder of a policy of insurance, demanding payment of the $13.80 premium, was a mystery to Mr. Henderson. This followed the settling up of the account between himself and Mr. Straker, and Mr. Henderson felt it was a mistake in some way. He thought if he had the books he could show it was a mistake.

SUGGESTS ADJOURNMENT

Mr. Harrison suggested adjourning for the production of the books. Mr. Bullock-Webster contended there was no intention to be dishonest. There was nothing to show that there was such an intention. This was simply an attempt to collect a debt by means of a criminal action.

Magistrate Jay felt there would be nothing gained by the production of the books. Mr. Henderson might have thought he had a right to collect this, said the magistrate. Mr. Harrison, however, urged that it was up to the accused to show this. The onus was placed on Mr. Henderson to prove his innocence in face of the documents and evidence produced.

Thereupon the argument closed, the magistrate stating he would consider the matter and give judgment later.

PROSPECTS OF SCHOOL BRIGHT

Saanich Board to Seek Land Grant for Proposed Cadboro Bay Structure

Prospects of a new school in Cadboro Bay district were brighter last night as the Saanich School Board decided to approach the Municipal Council with a view to securing municipal lots in Cadboro Bay area.

It is not likely the school will be erected this year, but the suggestion was advanced that the board seek an extraordinary expenditure grant from the council to finance the project. Failing this, the board could ask that a money-by-law be placed before the electorate.

Rough figures presented last night indicated a modern, two-room school, such as would be needed, would cost under $5,000.

Petitions from residents of that area asking for school accommodation have been numerous in the past two months. At present, pupils are transported by bus to other schools in Saanich. Many of the children attend Gordon Head School.

It had been suggested that the old school in the district be renovated and utilized, but board officials thought this impossible. The old Children's Aid Home at Cadboro Bay was also suggested as a likely place for a school.

INNISFREE FIREWORK

VISIBLE FOR MILES

INNISFREE, Alta., Nov. 22 (CP).—A large, fiery cross was burned on the hill, south of the town last night. It was visible for miles. This unusual occurrence follows five nights after George Palmer, grain strike orator, was "taken for a ride" and tarred.

The implication of the fiery cross is as yet unknown. Speculation is being made as to whether it has any connection with the grain strike.

CHALLENGE OF CHURCH GIVEN

Rev. C. G. MacKenzie Declares Christianity Should Socialize the Mind

The Church must purge itself of the disease which is slowly sapping the life-blood from its system, and Christianity must challenge Communism and Nationalism, the two great revolutionary movements today. It must issue the challenge that Christianity itself is revolutionary, but revolutionary with an all-loving God as its guide.

This was the message with which Rev. C. G. MacKenzie brought to a close his talk on "The Christian Alternative to Revolution," at the bi-monthly forum meeting of the Victoria West Community Forum held last night in Victoria West United Church. Rev. W. R. Brown was chairman.

The speaker first dealt with the revolutions which were a natural phenomenon of nature, and distinguished these from revolutions of humanity. Revolutions bore two qualities, passion and reason, but frequently passion secured the upper hand, and bloody revolution was the result.

DESCRIBES REVOLUTION

Mr. MacKenzie then outlined in a scholarly manner the two revolutions taking place in the world today. First he analyzed nationalism as it was known in Italy and Germany, and branded it "capitalism's effort to find a new lease of life."

Of Communism, Mr. MacKenzie said it was the antithesis of the thesis that thought was the cause of history and idealism its ultimate goal. The thesis had been established. Carl Marx inverted it and began his theory on the premises that things were the cause of history. Thus the new philosophy became outstandingly materialistic. A dictatorship of the proletariat was necessary to develop the theory to its ultimate conclusion where a synthesis would be created where one class no longer would predominate, but the masses of the people would be blended in a complete and unified whole.

There were many characteristics of Communism that were alien to Christianity, he said, and for this reason Christianity could not embrace the new Russian religion. First, it denies a God, and secondly, it denied individualism. These were only two factors in Communism that the Christian Church could not embrace, he said.

Mr. MacKenzie then suggested that it was up to Christianity to challenge Communism with the principles of the present trouble. Christianity meant socialization of the mind. By individual conversion one was brought to a common fellowship. Nationalism was turned to internationalism, and Communism into Christianity.

He suggested that the Church, by cleansing itself of religious parasites by denouncing the wealthy who made their profits from the lives of those whom they subjugated and suppressed. The Church should refuse to receive endowments from such men. Discipline should be brought to bear upon them, he suggested.

"Were you carefully brought up?" asked the merchant, of a small youth who had applied for a situation.

"Yes, sir, thank you, sir. I came up in the lift," replied the boy.

TOURIST TRADE AIDS BUSINESS

Frank Giolma Writes Interesting Article in Monetary Times Publication

"Tourist Trade Aids Business in Victoria," is the title of an article which appeared in the November 17 issue of the Monetary Times, well-known financial journal of Canada. It is written by Frank Giolma, of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. The article is interesting throughout, and it is expected to attract considerable attention to this city. Among other things the writer says:

"You will remember the saying that a business depression, or revival, is felt first by the theatre business, then by the jewellers, and then by the transportation companies. Remembering this, note that in 1933, 10,585 automobiles brought tourists to Victoria, while last summer this number rose to 14,098, showing an increase of 33.1 per cent, while the general increase for British Columbia was 5 per cent, and for the Dominion, from 8 to 10 per cent.

VALUE OF TOURISTS

"During the last ten years, visitors have brought into Victoria a total over $30,000,000 at a cost to the city of some $300,000.

"The fine hotels in the city and Up-Island inns all depend on tourist business for their revenue, while the C.P.R. has an investment of some $25,000,000 in fleet, wharves, piers and other properties, 60 per cent of which is justified by this tourist business.

"These people constitute a seasonal consuming population. They do not engage in any business in the city, but bring their money with them and buy for cash. So far from interfering with any other industry, they create an extra and lucrative market for all goods produced."

BURIED AT ROYAL OAK

Many sorrowing friends attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Florence Clara Simons held yesterday afternoon, Very Rev. C. S. Quainton conducting the service. The only hymn sung was "Abide With Me." The casket was covered with beautiful floral offerings. The following acted as pallbearers: I. Culross, R. White, B. C. W. Lilley and R. N. Brown. The remains were laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

CANDIDATE FOR TRUSTEE NAMED

Alexander Marshall's Entry Into School Board Field Assures Contest

Alexander Marshall, of 1275 Balmoral Road, yesterday announced his candidature for the city school board for a two-year term, thus assuring a contest in two fields of the civic election. There is a contest in the aldermanic field, but none so far for mayor, or the one-year term on the school board.

Mr. Marshall is a representative here of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, and is well known as a former president of the Life Underwriters' Association. He also is interested in sports, particularly soccer.

Other candidates seeking a two-year term on the school board are Trustees W. C. Moresby, K.C., and P. E. George, and Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin.

Objecting to their transfer to another school, pupils at Huthwaite, England, recently went on strike.

Radio Fan Unwittingly Cuts Off Press Service

Attaches Receiver to Telegraph Wire on Downtown Building—Editors Wondering What Kind of Reception He Got by the Connection

There is one unidentified radio fan in Victoria who caused considerable worry to members of the Colonist staff last night and, incidentally, to C.P.R. "trouble shooters."

Without warning, the telephone machines in The Colonist office went dead. The telegraphic service, embracing the paper through the medium of teletype, was also interrupted.

The operator tried to find the cause of the trouble. He could not locate it. Then the C.P.R. "trouble shooters" were called in. Armed with all sorts of delicate instruments they ascertained that the wire had been short circuited some place between the C.P.R. office and The Colonist. This necessitated a foot by foot inspection of the wire. Eventually the short circuit was located. Some radio fan in one of the large buildings had conceived the idea that the telegraph wire would make a fine aerial, so attached his receiver to the wire. When he turned on the radio, he cut off the teletype service.

The Colonist radio editor, who is of an inquiring mind, would like the man who interfered with the editor's press service to report just what kind of reception he got over the telegraph wire.

GROUND SCHOOL TO START HERE

L. R. Kirby to Conduct Aviation Course Under Sponsorship of Y.M.C.A.

L. R. Kirby, aeronautical expert, will conduct an aviation ground course, the first of its kind here, in the Y.M.C.A. It was announced yesterday.

The course will take every aspect of flying that can be considered without a machine, including construction principles, flight theory, aerodynamics, navigation problems and practical designing.

The complete course is being sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. with textbooks prepared by the Pacific Technical University, with amendments covering new developments from Government laboratories.

The Y.M.C.A. Aviation Ground School, as the course will be named, will occupy a twenty-week period, and an organization meeting will be held on Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A.

WIDE EXPERIENCE

Mr. Kirby designed and built the first new type of aircraft to originate in British Columbia. He is a graduate of Pacific Technical University and received his instruction in aircraft motors from H. Voortman; his training in designing and construction under Lawrence Muhleisen and Howley Bowles, all of whom took part in the designing and construction of the Spirit of St. Louis. His navigation was given by Lieutenant-Commander Weems, U.S.N., who was then developing what is known as the Weems system of navigation for aircraft, and who had been appointed by the United States Government as instructor of navigation for Col. Charles Lindbergh, and by Lieut. William Davis, who was navigator for Art Goebel, winner of the Dole race from Oakland to Honolulu. Meteorology was given by Professor Woodin, of Pennsylvania State College.

In addition to this, Mr. Kirby studied airport design, construction and management at the Lindbergh Airport, then under construction, where he also took flight training. Since that time Mr. Kirby has conducted his own school of aviation.

THOROUGH TRAINING

The outstanding object of the course at the Y.M.C.A. will be to give the man interested in aviation

WAY OUT IS SUGGESTED

Mayor Leeming Offers Solution to City's Present Financial Dilemma

"Hearing me so frequently paint a picture of Victoria's financial situation you may possibly think I am a weeping Jeremiah," Mayor David Leeming declared at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, in the Empress Hotel, yesterday. "If that is your impression, then there is no help for it, because I am here to apprise you of the true state of affairs, and I may say at the outset that the problem shows no easement, but rather an accumulation of more burdens."

The Mayor's subject was "The Financial Situation and the Way Out." During the first half of his speech, he drew a picture of increasing civic burdens, and a rising cost of unemployment relief. Social service of all kinds, he said, had increased 240 per cent since 1930, the last normal year.

Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, had pointed out, he declared, that 11,000 or 40 per cent of those on relief throughout the province were over fifty years of age. The percentage was even higher in Victoria, the Mayor stated, being 47 per cent.

PERMANENT PROBLEM

"At our High School we have 300 more students than we did in 1924, when we had a greater population than we have now. If industry absorbs labor, it is certain that it will first absorb the youths, before those who are over fifty years of age and out of work. I firmly believe that those who have passed the half century mark will never be absorbed, and will remain a social problem that we must confront, and handle with courage," His Worship asserted.

The fundamental way out of the difficulty is to place taxation on a sane, commonsense basis, "yet the Government so far has not given us one word of hope in this direction," the Mayor said.

"The other way out is to build up the tourist business and establish Victoria in an industry that cannot be taken away from her, the speaker continued. "We must create new wealth."

"I believe we can increase our tourist business by hundreds of per cent, if we go the right way about it," His Worship stated, explaining the steps already taken by the newly-formed tourist organization to develop this industry. He pointed out that this year an increase of 37 per cent had been recorded in the number of tourists visiting this city.

At the close of his address, the Mayor was congratulated upon his suggestion of the way out.

AID TO CHURCHES GENEROUSLY MET

St. Mary's Congregation, Assisted by Unknown Donor, Raises $1,790 for Saskatchewan Parishes

The offer recently made by an anonymous donor to St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, to give dollar for dollar up to $1,000 in aid of the needy parishes of the Diocese of Saskatchewan, has been largely met by this congregation. The sum of $1,790 was sent forward about ten days ago, and its receipt was acknowledged in a grateful letter received by the Bishop of Columbia from Rev. Walter Burd, Bishop of Saskatchewan.

The offer grew out of the interest taken by the laity of the diocese in connection with the bishop's committee of laymen, organized some months ago. Various laymen have presented to the congregations the interests of the Church of England in Canada, more particularly its missionary interests. The need in some of the Western dioceses is indicated in the fact that some clergy were receiving not more than $40 a month to carry on their widely-extended parochial work.

GENEROUS RESPONSE

Challenged by this need and the generous offer of dollar for dollar, Rev. Canon A. E. de L. Nunn placed the matter before the St. Mary's congregation, intimating that he would be in the vestry all day Tuesday to receive gifts for this purpose. The response exceeded all expectations. More than $800 was given on Sunday and Tuesday in amounts from $100 to six cents, the latter by a little girl.

A total of $1,790 was sent to the missionary society of the Church of England, earmarked for the Saskatchewan diocese. In his letter to Bishop Schofield, the Bishop of Saskatchewan expressed his great gratitude, and said the amount would help him to make up most of the deficit. The gift was all the more acceptable because Bishop Burd, who is a war veteran, has been in poor health since his ordination from war disabilities.

SEEKS RIGHT FOR MARRYING

Rev. Dr. W. J. Thompson, of City Temple, Appeals to Court

An appeal was taken to Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson in the Supreme Court here, yesterday, against the decision of the registrar of marriages for the province in refusing to place on the list of those entitled to perform the marriage ceremony in British Columbia the name of Rev. Dr. W. J. Thompson, pastor of the City Temple, Victoria. It is the first occasion since the passing of the new regulations governing this matter, which came into effect in 1930, that such an appeal has been taken.

The matter was argued at length, yesterday morning, His Lordship reserving decision.

The appeal was taken by H. W. Davey and H. A. Beckwith on behalf of the City Temple and Dr. Thompson. The registrar of marriages, Dr. H. E. Young, was represented by H. Alan Maclean, departmental solicitor in the Attorney-General's office.

FOLLOWING ACT

Mr. Maclean made it clear that there was no animosity towards Dr. Thompson in connection with the matter. It was simply an attempt to follow the statute, which had for its object the exercising of special care with respect to marriage. Under the act, the regular clergymen of any denominations were put on the list of those entitled to perform marriages. The act required that any one who performed the ceremony must be registered in the office of the registrar.

The question arose as to what should be done in the matter of an isolated place of worship or church which had no affiliation with any other church in the province. In the case of Dr. Clenn Davies, who previous to becoming the pastor of the City Temple, had been a duly ordained clergyman of one of the churches, it was felt that he should be continued, but with the severing of his connection with the City Temple the new pastor had not been accorded a place among those authorized to perform marriage.

CHURCH MAKES PROGRESS

During the argument, Mr. Davey showed that the church over which Dr. Thompson presided was an influential one in the city. It had a very considerable amount of money, meeting the necessary expenses and filling an important place in the church organizations of the city.

Dr. Thompson was a regularly-ordained clergyman of the Congregational Church in England, and had also been identified with the Congregational Church in the United States before coming here.

Under the charter of incorporation of the City Temple, under the Benevolent Societies Act, which made it a duly-constituted evangelical body, it was set out that the Church of England form of marriage ceremony should be performed by the clergyman in charge.

REGISTRAR'S OBJECT

Mr. Maclean said the registrar of marriages would be glad to accept any assistance that the court could afford in the carrying out of his duties. The sole object of the registrar was to see that the act was lived up to closely.

His Lordship undertook to give due consideration to a new question which had come before the courts.

Conservatives Not in Haste Says President

VICTORIA Conservatives have not yet considered nomination in the Victoria Federal riding, and have no immediate thought of doing so, Hugh Allan, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, said yesterday when asked if the Conservatives would follow the example set by another organization earlier in the week.

It was the late W. J. Bowzer, K.C., who once remarked on "the futility of launching a candidate when there is no election in sight, and giving him a year in which to commit the party to a broad variety of policies," it was recalled.

grades and classes of milk and milk products established by the Milk Act (of 1926-27) and regulations thereunder.

Section 14, Paragraph G—"To prohibit the marketing of any of the regulated product of any grade, quality or class."

POOLING CLAUSE

Section 14, Paragraph J—"By itself or by means or with the co-operation of the agencies to conduct a pool or pools for the equalization of returns received from the sale of the regulated product, and to compensate any person for a loss sustained by withholding from the market or forwarding to a specified market any of the regulated product pursuant to an order of the Marketing Board or in response to equal or level production, provided that no compensation shall be paid in respect of any regulated product that may be withheld from a particular market because the class of such product is deemed by the Marketing Board to be unsuitable for such market, and that only milk which comes from certified premises may participate directly or indirectly in fluid milk returns, and provided further that all milk from certified premises shall bear its due proportion of the reduced return received from the sale of any portion of such milk which may be manufactured, on the basis of values determined by the Marketing Board."

COMPULSION

The Lower Mainland Dairy Producers Board, called the Marketing Board in the scheme, is given in addition, a succession of powers to insure operation of the scheme. It is given authority expressly to compel agencies to comply with a pooling scheme; to assist by loan or grant creation of preserving or processing plants; to inspect books and secure returns from persons and agencies; to pay preliminary organization, and operating expenses of the board, including salaries; to establish a fund in connection with the scheme as a whole; and to borrow or raise up to $15,000, by hypothecation or otherwise.

When functioning, the commodity board will have power to impose fines of not less than $25 nor more than $500, or imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both fines and imprisonment, on those who commit any breach of its orders or regulations. Members of the board are held not liable personally at law for damage claims against operations of the board, and special provision is made to fend off injunctions by reason of technical errors, if any, in the set-up of the scheme.

FOR TWO YEARS

The commodity board is instructed to keep minutes and a proper record of its dealings, with the books of the organization, for annual report to the Provincial Marketing Board. It is obliged, also, to compile and keep up to date a registry of all vending producers in its area. The initial board, composed of Hugh Davidson, W. T. McArthur and W. J. Park, will hold office until March 31, 1936; with provision for an annual board election after that, at which a referendum on abandonment or continuance of the plan may be submitted.

Individual right of appeal from the orders of the commodity board will be open, by way of reference to the Provincial Marketing Board; and the whole scheme can be revoked by Government order on petition from a representative section of the producers.

RUNS SCALE OF COLOR CHANGES

Woman Patient Back to Red After Being Brown, Blue and Purple

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22 (AP).—The "rainbow woman" of Kansas City, changed color again today, and was red once again.

Almost as rapidly as her temperature fluctuated from normal to 102 degrees, Mrs. Edith Perry, thirty-two, has been blue, purple, red, brown and red again in five days' confinement in General Hospital.

Physicians who thumbed their books to find a similar case said the case would be easier were it not for the purple shade.

There are many records of persons who turned red as result of contact with arsenic, either as medicine or in some other form, they said. There are numerous cases of scaling skin such as Mrs. Perry has, but none accompanied by the purple phase.

Mrs. Perry's case is the only one of which they have record in which a person turned purple.

Mrs. Perry's ailment has been tentatively diagnosed as a "chemical dermatitis," caused by contact, either externally or internally, with some chemical for which the woman has an unsuspected idiosyncrasy.

Busy, Buzzing and Bothersome Bees Bring Big Bounty

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Nov. 22 (CP).—Mrs. Garrett Foxwell was bothered all Summer by bees buzzing around her home, but she did not know then what they were doing.

She found out when workmen, remodeling the dwelling, started to tear off the plaster to rebuild the walls. The walls literally were filled with honey.

The honey was taken out of the house in pots and pans and distributed among the neighbors. There was approximately thirty quarts of it.

CANNOT COMPLETE GROUND DRAINAGE

Mount View High School Field Project Shelved by Saanich Board for This Year

Drainage of Mount View High School grounds will not be undertaken this year. It was decided by the Saanich School Board last night. It is likely, however, that provision will be made in the 1935 estimates for this work.

The Mount View P. T. A. in a letter to the board, complained of the flood conditions which exist at present on the school playgrounds. The association was also displeased with the work done for the money expended. Trustee William Tomes reported.

The work on the grounds was done by municipal relief labor under arrangement between the board and the Saanich Council. The playground was being prepared for a soccer field, but flood conditions have prevented furthering of this project.

New Method juvenile basketball squad will journey to Duncan, today, to meet the Up-Islanders in an exhibition fixture. The locals have a well-balanced quintette and hope to make a good showing against the Duncan hoopers.

He—You're good at conundrums; try this one.

She—Sure, go ahead.

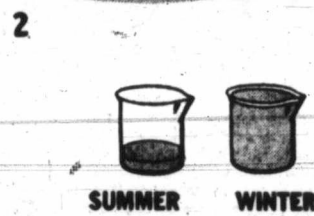

He—Take away my first letter, take away my second letter, take away all my letters, and I am still the same. What am I?

She—That's easy. You're a postman.

In a single "engine warm-up"
Thermalized
can save you up to a cupful of gasoline

Every few degrees drop in temperature means it takes your engine longer to warm-up. That means more choke.

And choke is wasteful—as much as 5 or 10 times the normal amount of gasoline is consumed.

That's why ordinary winter gasoline costs more to use. It requires choke until your motor is 25 degrees warmer than is now necessary.

On Thermalized, your motor starts running smoothly, powerfully, in half the former time. You use the choke only half as long.

Thermalized Super-SHELL can save you as much as a cupful of gasoline on every cold start.

Only Super-SHELL is "Thermalized." Exclusive Shell processes make it far more concentrated—Thermalize it for local temperatures.

MINSTREL SHOW WELL RECEIVED

Canadian Scottish Players Delight Large Audience With Fine Presentation

With rapid-fire humorous comment and jokes, and many novelty presentations, the minstrel show produced by the Canadian Scottish Players at the Armories, last night, delighted a large audience and drew much applause. Following the programme, dancing was enjoyed.

Black-faced comedians dressed in outrageous costumes, presided over by Sergeant Percy Derbyshire as master of ceremonies, kept the audience in light spirits with their amusing banter and jokes, while Sergeant-Major Harry Warburton and Company Quartermaster-Sergeant F. L. Kitto pleased with short skits.

Staff-Sergeant Eric Chalmers, in a musical monologue, and in a song, was roundly applauded. Songs were also sung by Sergeant David Fyvie, Drummer S. Harrison, Sergeant L. McKay and Sergeant Charles Hunt. In the guise of a Persian dancing girl, Alex Crabbe went through the routine of an eccentric dance, and responded with an encore. The orchestra was under the direction of Sergeant Hunt.

Company Sergeant-Major Thomas Dempster was chairman of the programme, and Sergeant Hunt was director. Proceeds of the concert will go to a fund to care for unemployed members and those receiving injuries through playing Rugby.

TO DISTRIBUTE MANY HAMPERS

Association to Assist Hundreds of Needy Families in Saanich

If the prediction made at the Saanich Welfare Association's special session, yesterday, proves correct, between 400 and 500 needy families in the municipality will be supplied with Christmas hampers this year.

At yesterday's meeting initial plans were arranged for the annual distribution of hampers. Final details will be announced after the association's regular meeting on December 6.

It was stated that, this year, Saanich nurses will investigate cases for the association.

Special appeals will be forwarded to various organizations in Saanich. Principals of municipal schools will be approached to allow pupils to bring donations for the welfare hamper campaign.

The Welfare Association headquarters will be closed for two weeks from December 10, it was decided, in order that members may have ample opportunity of securing and making up large hampers. Donations of vegetables are needed, it was reported.

Saanich merchants who desire orders are asked to communicate with the welfare office before December 10. Mrs. T. Todd, Mrs. P. F. Osborn and Miss K. Oldfield were appointed the association's buying committee.

"Jamboree" Is Held by Anglers' Association

Success of Organization Is Marked by Great Evening at Chamber of Commerce—Excellent Programme of Entertainment

The Victoria—Saanchich Inlet Anglers' Association is a successful organization, and for the purpose of celebrating this success, members and their friends gathered at the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday evening, to attend the monster "Jamboree." Over five hundred invitations for the event were sent out by the social committee, under the direction of Dr. Hugh Clarke. E. L. Tait, first president of the association, acted as chairman.

From the start of the evening's entertainment, until its conclusion with dancing at midnight, the event was voted a howling success. Leading local artists contributed to the programme, one of the finest presented here for a long time.

PROFESSOR IN ACTION

Professor Bonzo gave a mystifying demonstration of mental telepathy. Sending a volunteer assistant who was supposed to be mesmerized, among the audience to request the production of unusual articles, only to have them correctly described by the blindfold professor on the stage. He had his audience guessing all the time, until he chose to enlighten them in the end.

As dainty in appearance as a piece of Dresden china, Miriam Schwabe, a talented juvenile dancer, was highly acclaimed by an appreciative audience. Such artistry and poise, in a tap-dancer so young was considered amazing. This youthful artist is but ten years of age, and there is little doubt that a brilliant future awaits her.

"The Big Bass Viol" and "Three for Jack" were two numbers superbly rendered by Jack Townsend, the well-known Victoria baritone. He also led the community singing in which the audience joined lustily.

The Foreign Secretary also took the opportunity to brand as "pure fabrication" reports that any two of the three powers have suggested or considered agreements that would be aimed at any third power, explaining that each of the three is being kept fully informed of what is going on.

CONTINUING EFFORTS

It was understood that the British, their compromise proposals to Japan rejected, were continuing efforts to reach an agreement on separate questions with the Japanese. These included an agreement on continued limitation of vessel sizes and gun power, admitted doubtful in the event of failure to reach an agreement on total tonnage; continuance of the Pacific possessions non-territorialization clause of the Washington treaty, and of the clause providing that each power notify the others of building plans.

PUBLISHES LETTER

BOSTON, Nov. 22 (AP).—The Christian Science Monitor tonight made public the text of a letter signed by Admiral Makato Saito, in which the Japanese statesman was credited with approving a recent article in The Monitor, which has caused considerable publicity in Japan. The letter was made public following a formal statement issued by the Japanese Embassy in Washington, in which passages in the article were questioned.

According to The Monitor, the letter read: "I have read the manuscript of this story which I have told to Mr. H. H. Hilscher, and I approve it. It is with my permission that my name is used as the author. (Signed) Makato Saito, Ichinomiya, Chikabaki, Japan, August 21, 1934."

No More Piles

Doctor's Prescription Does the Work
Few Pile sufferers know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel. This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories so often may not give lasting relief and why cutting sometimes removes the pile tumor but leaves its exciting cause which may create a recurrence.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause. For this an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation and acts to relieve congestion.

So isn't it better, when salves fail and before considering operation, to try this internal remedy when MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with money-back if not joyfully satisfied with the help one bottle gives. (Adv.)

"YOU'RE RIGHT, AND IT'S JUST AS GOOD FOR FLOORS, WOODWORK OR PAINTED WALLS—IN FACT, FOR ANY SURFACE ON WHICH WATER MAY BE USED."

There's a reason behind these facts—Old Dutch is the only cleanser made with pure "seismolite" (pronounced sis'-mo-fite) a fine, scratchless cleaning and polishing material of volcanic origin that makes Old Dutch the safest, most effective and most economical cleanser. It doesn't scratch.

Miss Rosemaire Parfitt outlined an excellent method of teaching Christmas music to the group. With her topic, "Christmas in Song and Story," Miss Parfitt delighted the leaders with her manner of presentation. The meeting was brought to a close with a worship service conducted by Miss M. Answers to these questions must be delivered, mailed or telephoned, the same day as question is published, and addressed to Macan & Mitchell Bridge Studios, 221-2 Pemberton Building.

Answer to Question No. 32.—A small diamond. You must lose two tricks in diamonds. If the adverse trumps are divided two-two, the card you lead makes no difference. If they are divided three-one, you have twice the chance of finding the A or K single, as against the 10, so that the lead of the Q would diminish your chances of avoiding the loss of three tricks in this suit. Subsequently, you will need the A of spades as an entry in the North hand to try the diamond finess.

The answer to Problem No. 31 should have been three hearts instead of three spades.

Royal Couple Sponsor Fund For Hospital

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP).—Princess Marina, soon to be the bride of the Duke of Kent, was up early today to find the thick fog which marred her return to London yesterday had given way to bright sunshine.

The Princess, free of engagements because of the strain of the welcome this city gave her, spent the day quietly, unpacking the trousseau she acquired in Paris. Incidentally, she paid customs duties on the garments, just as any other traveler would do, when she brought them from France to England.

The Princess did not leave Buckingham Palace until late in the afternoon, when she went with the King and Queen and her fiancé to inspect the wedding presents already sent the Royal couple.

OTHERS IN PARTY. Also in the party which visited the special room in St. James' Palace where the presents are kept were the Princess' parents, Prince and Princess Nicholas, and the Duke and Duchess of York.

An effort to get the House of Commons to look into the why and wherefore of the increase from £10,000 to £15,000 ($75,000) the Duke of Kent will receive annually after his marriage, was squelched with efficiency and dispatch today.

James Maxton, Glasgow left-winger, asked if the House would be given an opportunity to discuss the matter.

"No," the Prime Minister replied promptly, "not at all."

HOSPITAL FUND. Sums ranging from a few shillings to thousands of pounds are rolling into the coffers of one of the city's oldest hospitals under the leadership of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina.

The Royal couple, in addition to sanctioning a national fund for the relief of underprivileged children of the unemployed, have agreed to head a drive to raise £100,000 (about $500,000) for the rebuilding of St. George's Hospital, which has stood at Hyde Park corner, one of the city's landmarks, for 200 years.

At the request of the Duke and the Princess, money which might be spent on wedding presents will be spent on the hospital fund.

GENEROUS RESPONSE. High and low, rich and poor alike have swung into line in answering the Duke's appeal. Cheques and postal orders ranging from two shillings (about fifty cents) to thousands of pounds have been received. All have been accompanied by letters telling of the senders' affections and good wishes for the Duke and the Princess.

One, from a tiny Gloucestershire village, read: "Please accept this 2s (two shillings) from a sightless woman who sends her devotion to Prince George and his Princess Marina, and who wishes him and your hospital every good wish."

P.T.A. Activities. DUNCAN. The monthly meeting of the Duncan Parent-Teacher Association was held Wednesday at the K. of P. Hall, with the president, Mr. R. A. Thorpe, in the chair. At the business session, Mrs. A. Leeming gave a report on the recent meeting of the Provincial Federation held at Ladysmith. After hearing the report, it was decided to affiliate with that body. Mrs. W. R. Smith gave a report on the work of the P.T.A. study group, and a project was discussed to organize a club for small boys in connection with the study group, to be conducted on the lines of manual training. An offer was received of prizes to be given for drawing, to be competed for by the Grades VI, VII and VIII. During the social hour, songs by Mr. John Dick, accompanied by Mrs. J. Piper, were enjoyed, and Mr. W. M. Gibson, of the High School staff, showed a number of interesting films of wild life.

Mount View High School. The annual fortnightly card party and dance were held in the Mount View High School auditorium on Wednesday, with a good attendance in spite of weather conditions. In the card games, the first prize was awarded to Miss H. Frost; second, Mrs. Shelley, and third, Mrs. Wood. Gentlemen's first prize was won by Mr. Harry Burnie; second, W. Tomes, and third, A. F. Morgan. In the spot dance the winners were: Miss Ada Fookes and Mr. Harry Simpson, and the statue dance was won by Miss Gwen Frampton and Mr. B. Pierce. The novelty group, Messrs. Todd, Noble, F. Williams and R. Elves, gave their cowboy songs to the accompaniment of guitars, and received liberal applause.

The next party will be on December 5, when it is particularly hoped there will be a good attendance at cards, as the prize will be substantial. On December 11 the regular monthly meeting will take place, and members will have the pleasure of meeting the provincial president of the Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. E. Barnard, of Nanaimo. Complete arrangements for the turkey drive to be held on December 19 will be discussed and settled at this meeting.

QUADRA. The annual bazaar of the Quadra Association was held Wednesday afternoon under the general co-operation of Mrs. V. Rolfe. Mrs. K. Schmeltz opened the bazaar and was presented with a lovely plant by little Miss Guy. The plain sewing stall was in charge of Mrs. Miles

Bennett Regime Is Strongly Endorsed By Ottawa Speaker

Mrs. Owen Campbell, of Central Conservative Committee, Montreal, Gives Rousing Address Before Women's Organization Here

"IN Premier Bennett we have the very embodiment of all the requirements that a strong leader should have. He has met and faced the great problems of the past few years with calmness and resource, proving himself a man of the greatest personal integrity, with keen brain and logical judgment. Canada should be proud of him," declared Mrs. Owen Campbell, of the Central Conservative Committee, Montreal, who was the principal speaker at the meeting held last evening at the Conservative rooms, Campbell Building, under the auspices of the women's branch of the local organization.

Mrs. Campbell proved herself an eloquent and forceful advocate of Conservatism, and received something akin to an ovation from the audience, which had already listened to a rousing address by J. W. Jones, former Provincial Minister of Finance. Both speakers followed the line of indicating some of the benefits that had accrued to Canada during the Conservative period at Ottawa during the Premiership of the Hon. R. B. Bennett. Mrs. Campbell specially stressed the part that women should play as women, as voters, and as citizens deeply interested in the welfare and promotion of the best interests of their country. In this connection she deplored the apparent lack of numerical interest here among women in the principles of the Conservative party.

PARTY MUCH ALIVE
It was quite the usual thing, at the present moment, to hear the Conservative party leader much criticized; to hear that the Conservative party was dying. "If we are dying our death agony is worth noting," she said in reply to this.

In a letter she had recently received from the Conservative leader at Ottawa he had said, in respect of unemployment in Canada, that this country surely should not fear criticism when conditions were so much worse everywhere else. Some people were still of the opinion that Canada established a coalition government, in the second year of the depression, the Dominion would have been much better off. Personally, she thought it would have been disastrous for the Conservatives to ally themselves with any other group.

In the last five years the ordinary problems of the various governments of the world had been enormously increased by the prevailing conditions. Various experiments had been tried with a view to gaining markets, increasing trade, giving employment, and improving conditions generally. The Soviet experiment, the Nazi Government in Germany, the NRA in the United States, the increasing power of the Labor party in Great Britain, the strength in the C.C.F. throughout Canada, particularly in British Columbia, all were indices of a perturbed state of mind, and showed that no universal harmony had yet sprung from the spirit of hatred and war.

WOMEN SHOULD HELP
In appealing for the loyal support of women to those principles enunciated in the policies of the present Federal Government, Mrs. Campbell paid tribute to Mr. Bennett and his party, and called attention to its achievements since it went into power. One of the first was effected economies to the extent of $81,000,000 per annum. Yet Canada had spent large sums on public works, had assisted railways, and given direct relief, as well as assisting the provinces to the extent of millions of dollars. The total cost had been about $181,000,000. But the result had been that there had little to be wondered at that the young people, leaving school and university unable to find jobs, should develop a destructive cynicism. The new youth movement must not be allowed to take the form of a mere campaign of protest. There was an energy there that could be turned to more constructive purposes.

CONDITIONS IMPROVING
With a record of $126,000,000 to the good in last year's export trade, it could not be said that conditions were not improving in Canada. Mr. Jones reminded the audience in a speech that also was a strong advocacy of the Conservative regime at Ottawa. This should allay the distrust that was asking for the Government to appeal to the country this year.

Unemployment was steadily growing less. Had it not been for the unbusinesslike policy of the Liberal Government at Ottawa, before Mr. Bennett took over the reins, the point it had in the matter of unemployment, for between 1920 and 1931 the Liberals had admitted 1,867,000 immigrants despite the protests of chambers of commerce, business men, and others. It was fortunate that many people, including Conservatives, forgot this fact and "lay down" under the criticism of the Liberals. Yet had the Liberals shut the gates and acted as Mr. Bennett's Government had done, the problem of unemployment would not have been so aggravated as it is at the present time. In this connection Mr. Jones spoke of the big loans made by the Conservative Government to the nine provinces of the Dominion for the care of unemployment relief.

Canada, in 1930, had an adverse trade balance, which was changed to a favorable trade balance of $136,000,000. When he took over the Government, Mr. Bennett found that Germany, Italy, France, the Argentine, Japan, had exacted high duties against goods from Canada, to such an extent that they were seriously affecting export trade from this country. In 1930, the Hawley-Smoot tariff was raised against Canadian goods entering the United States. These tariffs were still in power. Yet the Liberals were going through Canada and accusing Mr. Bennett with crippling the export trade of Canada.

COUNTRY SOLVENT
"The Bennett regime has kept this country solvent when many other countries are going on the rocks," said Mr. Jones. Special tariff concessions had been secured with Great Britain, New Zealand, Australia, and South Africa. Today Canada was taking more goods from these countries than before, and they were taking more goods from Canada.

Other things were enumerated, to the credit of the Bennett regime. Economies had been made, a commission appointed to investigate the whole financial situation; the C.N.R. was under a competent commission; the Government had taken over the radio, and if there were any country in the world that should be proud of its banking system, it was Canada, which all through the depression had not experienced the closing of a single bank, while thousands were closed in the United States. The land settlement policy of the Bennett Government was praised. The fruit and market industry would be greatly aided by the Government's Market Control Act, and other important legislation was aimed to assist those in arrears of taxes.

PEACE AND YOUTH
The importance of a peace programme among the women of Canada, particularly in the interests of the youth of the country, was advocated. Women everywhere should take a stand against armaments. If the voters of all nations took a solid stand, there would be no more war. Settlement of disputes should be by arbitration. The instrument to this end was the League of Nations, and women, therefore, should support the League of Nations. It was futile to advocate peace and continue to supplement armaments.

Another place where women could help was in the choice of men of integrity and honesty for public office. Women should not be laggards in the use of their vote. Women should also be thinking a little more about their own responsibility as holders of public office. There were far too few in Parliament. Women would win political recognition just as soon as they made themselves necessary in politics.

ELECTION PENDING
"Organize now; work together now; sink all differences now; an election is pending. In another few months we will be in another campaign. Let us have a continuance in power of the Conservative Party, a party with a fine history and headed by a man whose name is destined to go down to posterity as one of the greatest of Canadian Premiers," Mrs. Campbell urged.

The problem of the youth of today was also touched upon. It was

Soccer Chatter

By A.P.A.N.

Both Esquimalt and City disappointed their supporters once again on Saturday, and though the Dockers made the more gallant attempt, neither of the two clubs, on last week's form, seem likely to cause any worry to the leaders, Wests and Thistles.

The City were strengthened by the addition of Rowe, who made some sensational saves, but this was more than offset by the weakness of the fullbacks and by the inefficiency of the forward line. At no time were they in a position to win the game or even to make a draw of it.

Esquimalt may be improving, and with the strongest halfback line in the league, they should be able to hold their own, but the weaknesses in team spirit more than in talent. They have not yet played like a winning team, whereas both Saanich and Wests are chock full of confidence at all times.

The feature of Saturday's football was an unpleasant feature. Even at the risk of affording more unwanted publicity, I feel that a few remarks on the subject of football morals will do no harm. It was a pity if such disgraceful scenes as were witnessed last week were to be dismissed with a semi-jocular reference to four boxing bouts.

In the first place, and far above all else, let the players concerned realize that, apart from strong partisan feelings apart from the excitement of the moment, all fans, in their quieter moments have nothing but condemnation for players who have no control of themselves.

Sometimes one player alone is to blame, but too often both men are only too willing to mix things up, and it is a matter of pure accident who actually starts the row. There are, in this town, players who have played for years and have never yet been in a fight.

I am now going to say something that will possibly make me quite unpopular, but I do not in any way try to condone the offence on the part of the erring players. Some of our referees are undoubtedly too slack at the early stages of the game. Too many men are allowed to get away with questionable tactics in a small way, grievances accumulate, and before it is realized, the players are beyond control.

In many cases it would be better to stop the game by blowing the whistle than to allow the slightest infringement of the rules to escape notice. The experience of referees is that if they get a strong hold early in the game they have no trouble later on.

There is no question about his instructions: "As regards rough play, the referee has absolute discretion. Where he considers the conduct of a player dangerous, or likely to cause injury, he must award a free kick. In doing so he must caution the offender, and if the offence is repeated, order the player off the field." Note the word "must."

Another instruction is: "To check rough play at the outset." I am making the general charge that too many of our referees do not obey this specific order. We have good referees, and all our referees handle a game well every now and then, but too often they start off without any show of authority whatever.

Again, let me emphasize, that this in no way exonerates players who think more of getting their own back than of playing football. What can we do about it, then, if a player insists on playing a foul game? I am afraid we can do nothing but trust to the protection of the referee. If he fails to check the offender, he is not likely to be a referee next week.

Of course, the fans are to carry part of the blame, especially so in an open park, where they are practically part of the game. Many a player would keep his head were he not being continually reminded by the true sportsman on the sidelines to "get his own back."

City and Esquimalt should give us good entertainment this week in their Milton Cup tie. I fancy the chances of the City boys if they have strengthened their back division, two good fullbacks in front of Rowe should prove too strong for Esquimalt, who are not yet in a winning mood.

On the other hand, if the City forwards do not show more enterprise than they did last week, they will easily be held by Esquimalt's first-class halfback line, and it will be a great opportunity for the dockers to start their long-delayed comeback. In any case, the game is sure to develop into a goalkeeping duel and we shall have thrills galore.

I note that in certain quarters there is a movement on foot to introduce the substitution rule into the English Rugby game out here. This, of course, is entirely the wrong business, but here is a word of friendly advice: Limit substitutions to cases of injury, don't make the mistake that we have made of substituting for tired players.

It is a striking commentary on the value of the missionary work that has been carried on for years by the English Football Association when a team from Italy can almost hold its own with an international side in the Old Country. But it seems that there is one lesson the fiery southerners have not absorbed, and that is to keep control of themselves.

The damage that they inflicted on the English players will tell on some of them for many weeks, but it is a tribute both to the players and to the referee that there does not seem to have been much in the way of retaliation. It is a pity that some of the English players would not take a few nasty bumps without any serious quarrelling, how much more enjoyable would our games be!

Speaking of retaliation, here's one told by a Scotsman about a Scottish player. Having been put on the carpet for striking an opponent, he pleaded that he was struck first. "But you should not have retaliated," he was reminded. "Retaliated! Didn't he retaliate first?" was the startling reply.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 22 (AP).—Revision of the Northwestern Professional Hockey League may be considered at a meeting when Edmonton and Calgary come to the Coast to play, Dr. Gordon Leitch, league president, said tonight.

He said Calgary was dissatisfied with part of the schedule, but pointed out it was difficult to frame

Because of the long traveling distances, the meeting probably will not be called until the Prairie teams come to the Coast to play.

BISONS DEFEAT DETROIT SQUAD

Chalk Up 4-3 Victory to Create Tie With Syracuse and London in Hockey Loop

DETROIT, Nov. 22 (CP).—Buffalo's fighting Bisons fought their way into a tie with Syracuse and London tonight in the International League with a 4-3 victory over the Detroit Olympics.

After Walker had counted to give Detroit the lead in the first period, Masacarr and Roth, pushed the rubber into the net in the second, and Lederman made his first goal on home ice to send the game into the final period all tied up.

Berlett scored for Bisons early in the third period and Benson and McDonald followed with tallies gained through neat passing plays. Detroit finally came through when Moffatt scored on a pass from King. Buffalo broke through for another counter when Jarvis scored after grabbing a loose puck at centre ice.

Eight-Piece Stage Band

With many fine acts and a number of Broadway stars, the new revue, "Artists and Models," will open its Victoria engagement at the Empire Theatre this afternoon and will play again this evening, tomorrow and Saturday, with a special midnight matinee on Sunday.

This revue comes to Victoria ringing with the flattering words of reviewers on many publications in leading cities where it has appeared. Special mention has been made of the scenery and the costumes and the splendid eight-piece orchestra which forms a musical background to the remainder of the programme.

There is said to be good singing and dancing, much clever comedy, and a number of novel acts on the bill which will please all who see the revue.

TENOR STARS IN DOMINION STORY

Richard Tauber, German Singer,
Plays Lead in Opera Concerning Schubert's Life

The golden voice of the world-famous tenor, Richard Tauber, will be heard singing the delightful songs of the immortal Schubert in "Thine Is My Heart," the latest British picture success, coming to the Dominion Theatre today for a week's engagement.

In England, "Thine Is My Heart" is produced under its real name, "Blossom Time," and while copy-right laws forbid the use of the title in Canada, yet that is what the picture really is. All the wealth of melody of the famous opera is produced by expert sound recording to make "Thine Is My Heart" notable in the annals of screen entertainment.

"Thine Is My Heart," the story of which is a new version on the life, love and music of Franz Schubert, presents Richard Tauber in the leading role as the great composer.

Among the beautiful songs sung in the picture are "Thine Is My Heart" and the eternal "Serenade." Two other songs rendered in English are, "Once There Lived a Lady Fair" and "Love Lost Forevermore." The latter song is part of the magnificent wedding ceremony with which the film is climaxed.

COLUMBIA Miss Sullivan is now at the Columbia Theatre as the star of "Little Man, What Now?" Frank Borzage's romantic Universal drama which tells of the struggles of a young couple all but submerged by the cruelties of the depression, sustained only by their youth and their great love for each other. Douglas Montgomery plays the leading male role.

LAUNCHES ATTACK ON HIS OPPONENT

Mayor Taylor Says McGee Wants
His Office Only as Stepping-
Stone to Ottawa

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (CP).—Mayor L. D. Taylor today charged, in addressing members of the British Columbia Bond Dealers' Association, that his majority opponent, G. G. McGee, M.P.P., planned to use the mayor's chair as a stepping-stone to Ottawa, if he were elected at the Vancouver civic elections in December.

"My opponent has been urging monetary reform, which, in my opinion, can only be on a national scale," Mr. Taylor said. "You can't pull down a monetary system and rebuild it immediately; it must be done gradually."

The mayor declared that Vancouver does not intend to repudiate her debts, and he expressed the opinion that reduction of interest rates is only a step towards repudiation.

He assured his hearers that the city's sinking fund is in good order, and declared himself opposed to using funds left over from by-laws in the construction of a new city hall, which he claimed was a luxury. He suggested that the $500,000 available be applied to the sinking fund.

Little Bedtime Stories

Once More Peter Learns Something

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Who has attentive ear and eye will learn a lot if he but try. Every day there is something to be learned and there are not days enough for any person to learn. That is why everybody should keep eyes and ears wide open. Peter Rabbit does this. Curiosity keeps Peter's eyes and ears right on the job most of the time. He doesn't always understand what he sees or what he hears, and then curiosity drives him to ask questions. There is nothing like asking questions if you want to find things out.

For several nights Peter listened to the voices coming down out of the sky and had puzzled and puzzled over the meaning of them. At last he made up his mind that he would ask questions, even though he might be laughed at for doing so.

First, Peter visited Johnny Chuck and told Johnny all about it. But Johnny couldn't help any. You see Johnny never had heard those voices himself because he is one of those who believe in going to bed early. You don't find Johnny Chuck roaming around at night. So Johnny yawned and said he didn't know anything about them, and guessed Peter had been dreaming anyway.

Then Peter went to Happy Jack Squirrel. Happy Jack is another who believes that bed is the proper place for all the sensible people at night, so he couldn't help Peter either. It was the same way with Striped Chipmunk and Chatterer the Red Squirrel. So, finally Peter made up his mind that he would have to go to one of his feathered friends to learn what he wanted to know.

DRAMA LEAGUE HEAD RESIGNS

Ottawa Theatrical Amateurs
Divided in Opinion Over
Merits of Play

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP).—Differences of opinion among directors of the Ottawa Drama League over the perspective of theatregoers here, and particularly over the propriety of "On the Spot," the Edgar Wallace gangster play now being presented at the Little Theatre, has caused Col. O. M. Biggar, formerly of Edmonton, to resign the presidency of the Drama League.

Admitting they had "gone modern" for a change, and referring to the complete sell-out on the first two nights of "On the Spot," the Drama League officials confirmed reports of Col. Biggar's resignation but announced they were taking no "back water," after having resolved unanimously to go on with the gangster show.

The president quit the head of the league, he stated, because he believed "On the Spot" was "unsound," and required modification. It was to be presented to Ottawa's discriminating Drama League clientele. He believed his fellow directors had failed to recognize the character and significance of the presentation.

OPINIONS DIFFER

Simultaneously with the announcement of the president's resignation and criticism heard in some quarters that the play was "sordid and unpalatable," Col. H. C. Osborne, former president of the Ottawa Drama League, and acting president since the retirement of Col. Biggar, gave the following statement:

"Col. Biggar, it is true, has resigned the presidency, but remains on the board of directors of the Ottawa Drama League. 'The Drama League has tried to give the public a little of everything and we have been pressed for some time to present a very modern and sophisticated offering. 'On the Spot' complies with that request. It is a twentieth century play if there ever was one. It can't be so terribly bad, since it ran for a year in London under the most distinguished auspices, and many of us had seen and approved it. If we had found it bad, naturally we would not have produced it."

"Of course there are a few 'damns' and so on, in the play, but who objects to mild curses on the stage? they crop up in the best families, and even the ladies. God bless them, use mild terms on occasion."

RECEIVES AWARD ON ADVERTISING

New Method Laundry Given Tribute for Work at Annual Convention in Cincinnati

At the annual convention of the Laundrymen's National Association of the United States and Canada, held last month at Cincinnati, F. E. Balsam, advertising manager of the New Method Laundries, Victoria, received glowing tribute for his work.

One of the main features of the convention was an advertising contest, in which advertising material was entered by the leading concerns of the country. Thousands of "ads" were sent in, among which was a series recently conducted by the New Method Laundries in Victoria newspapers. This was awarded fourth prize and a certificate of merit, the judges being chosen from nationally-known advertising agencies.

ATTENDS MEETING
W. F. Pinfold, president of the New Method Laundries, Ltd., attended the convention, which was composed of representative laundrymen from all parts of the United States and Canada. Ralph H. Jones, of the Jones Advertising Agency, addressed a large meeting, taking "Modern Publicity Methods" as his subject.

He referred to newspaper advertising as being of the greatest value, outlining some of the current expressions of art and typography used.

While in the East, Mr. Pinfold spent some time at the Institute of Laundering at Joliet, Illinois. This research institute was formed ten years ago by the Laundrymen of Canada and the United States, and is looked upon by modern industry as a model of its kind.

Thomas Gainsborough was one of the greatest English portrait painters; also a landscape painter of great importance.

RANGERS, AMERICANS AND CHICAGO WIN MATCHES

Sunderland Will Face W. Bromwich In Feature Game

Will Endeavor to Hold Leadership in English First Division Against Stiff Opposition—Stoke City Tackles Grimsby Town—Cup Matches Set—Important Games in Scottish Loop

LONDON, Nov. 22 (CP).—Third Division clubs of the English Soccer Association will be engaged in the first round proper of the English Cup on Saturday with survivors from the preliminary rounds. The First and Second Division clubs do not get into action until the third round some weeks hence.

While many old rivalries are being renewed in the cup struggles, Sunderland will meet West Bromwich Albion and endeavor to hold its lead in the league championship race. Stoke City, runners-up by only a point, go to Grimsby Town, where the outcome is in doubt. The fishermen are yet to be beaten on their home grounds.

London's biggest match sees the gunners, three points down in third place, tangle with Chelsea, who are back at the bottom of the table. The game is at Stamford Bridge and probably 60,000 will attend, all seats having been sold.

For the Arsenal-Chelsea battle, Chelsea is making only one change, Gregg replacing Cheyne. Arsenal's line-up is doubtful.

Tottenham Hotspurs will field a powerful line-up against Sheffield Wednesday. O'Callaghan will deputize again for Hall. Bolton Wanderers, Second Division leaders, engage Plymouth.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE
GLASGOW, Nov. 22 (CP).—More grim battles will be seen in the First Division of the Scottish Football League Saturday, where six points still cover the first eight clubs, with Rangers on top by a single point.

The Ibrox Park champions go to Queen's Park for one of the feature matches, and Hearts and St. Johnstone, deadlocked in second place, are likewise drawn away. Hearts travel to Aberdeen, where the result is unpredictable, and St. Johnstone goes to Hamilton Academicals, where a close struggle is certain, the Acads being right behind St. Johnstone in fourth place Clyde travels to Kilmarnock.

King's Park expect no trouble keeping safely ahead of the Second Division contenders, Montrose, who have won only four out of fifteen starts.

U.S. Net Stars Make Sweep of First Matches

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP).—The United States professional tennis players, William T. Tilden, Ellsworth Vines and Bruce Barnes, made a clean sweep of three singles matches against European opposition, at Wembley Stadium, today.

Tilden defeated Martin Place of France, 7-5, 6-3, 6-3; Vines beat Hans Nusslein, of Germany, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, 8-6, and Barnes beat Maskell, of England, 6-3, 6-0, 8-4.

LEVINSKY TO SWAP BLOWS WITH LASKY

"Kingfish" to Meet Minneapolis Fighter Tonight in Chicago Ring

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP).—The highly scrambled heavyweight boxing situation may become entirely hopeless if King Levinsky, Chicago's reformed fish merchant, succeeds in defeating Art Lasky, of Minneapolis, regarded as a genuine menace to Max Baer's reign as world's champion, in their ten-round battle in Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

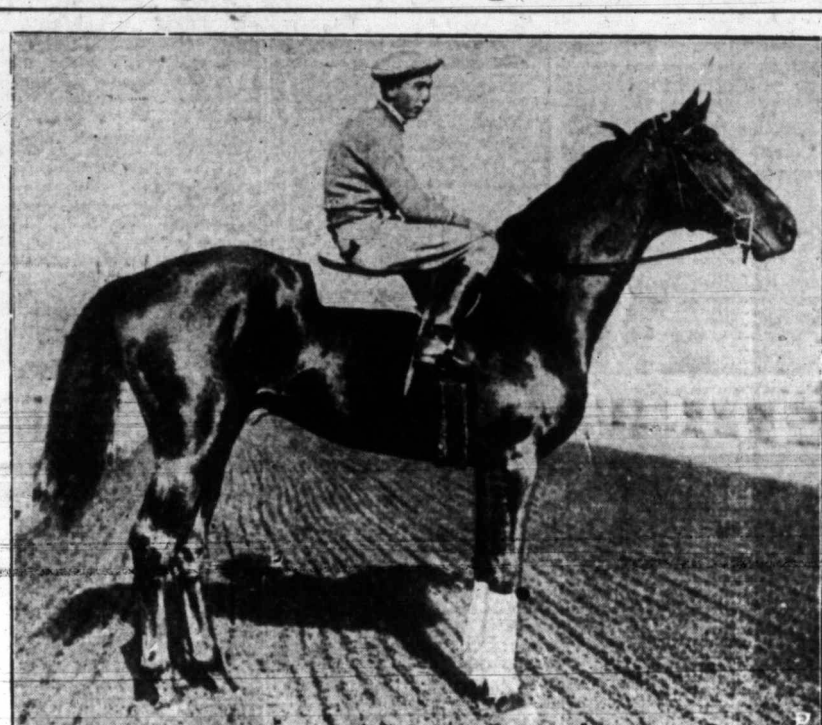

Levinsky is presented with an opportunity to upset the heavyweight structure, and a suspicion that he may be able to do it is expected to attract 15,000 customers who will pay perhaps $40,000 to view the battle. The Minneapolis Hebrew, who defeated Levinsky on points in Los Angeles last summer, is being aimed towards a championship match with Baer, and if he is able to beat Levinsky, a match with Max Schmeling in Miami in February will follow.

The importance of tomorrow night's fight is reflected in the fact that Baer, the champion, hauled himself out of a sick bed in Mexico and will arrive in time to witness the bout.

Savoldi Beaten By Jim Londos

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (CP).—Jim Londos, of Greece, claimant to the world wrestling championship, threw "Jumping Joe" Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star and one of London's keenest rivals, for two straight falls here, tonight, in the feature bout of a wrestling card. Londos got the first fall after forty-three minutes of close grappling and threw Savoldi for the second fall in ten minutes. Londos took advantage of Savoldi's favorite attack, the drop kick, to gain the winning fall as his rival was off balance.

All-Star Eastern Grid Squads Named By Canadian Press

First and Second Teams Announced by Coaches and Sport Writers—Thirteen Chosen From Inter-Provincial Ranks and Ten From O.R.F.U.

BY ELMER DUNN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (CP).—The long-suffering Ontario Rugby Football Union, whose Sarnia Imperials at last have crashed the Big Four barriers and taken football supremacy in the East down to a small border town in Western Ontario, scored again today with announcement of the third annual Canadian Press All-Eastern football teams. The O.R.F.U. placed three players on the first team.

The powerful Big Four stood up remarkably well in the season-end balloting by coaches and sports writers, but there was no denying the O.R.F.U., and the Imperials this time. Norman Perry and Hugh (Bummer) Stirling, of Sarnia, were elected to the first team along with the sensational Johnny Metras, St. Michael's College, Sarnia. Sarnia's rise to power was clearly reflected in the votes of twenty-nine coaches and writers who ignored a tradition that the East's best football is played in the Inter-Provincial and Inter-Collegiate Unions. Of the twenty-four players they elected for the two teams, thirteen are from the Inter-Provincial, ten from the O.R.F.U. and one from Ted Reeve's Queen's Inter-Collegiate champions.

THREE TIGERS PLACED
Hamilton Tigers placed three men on the first All-Eastern team: Toronto Argonauts three; Montreal Wheelers two and Ottawa Roughriders one—the one and only Abe Eliowitz. In 1933 the Big Four won all but a single berth on the first squad, and that place went to Don Young, McGill flying wing. This year Young failed to make even the second team.

There were few players, this season, who stood out from the rest sufficiently to get anything like a unanimous call from the selectors. The exceptions were Eliowitz, Ottawa's triple-threat flying wing; Frank Turville and Brian Timmis, Hamilton Tigers' greatest offensive threats; Pete Jokius, line-plunging Montreal middle wing; Jim Palmer, veteran Argo inside, and the ends, Seymour Wilson of Tigers and West Cutler of Argos.

As great a player as Norman Perry, of Sarnia, barely edged out Huck Welch, of Montreal, for a place on the first team backfield. Welch was the No. 1 halfback a year ago, but the thirty-year-old Imperial ace pooled heavily in all regions to replace him.

The giant Ormond Beach, of Sarnia, and the still-popular Young provided Eliowitz with sprinter competition for the flying wing post, but Abe led from the start. He compiled seventeen first-team votes and five second-team ballots. Beach recorded seven for the first team and five for the second; Young, four and eleven.

Stirling's decision over the brilliant Teddy Morris, of Argos, was exceptionally close. The Sarnia punter and plunger received eleven first-team votes to nine for Morris. In addition, Stirling secured six votes for the first team as a running or kicking half, which gave him a clear edge over Morris, who led in second-team votes.

The selectors sorted out three leading quarterbacks—Bob (Square) Clark, of Argos; slender Alex Hayes, of Sarnia, and fleet Bobby Coulter, of U. of T. Clark, sharp-shooting passer from Niagara University, won by a close margin over Hayes. Coulter ran a good third.

Clark has twelve votes for the first team and six for second. Hayes received nine for first and nine for second; Coulter three for first and nine for second.

After two years as an all-Eastern selection, Lew Newton, of Montreal, finally was jostled from his place by Johnny Metras, with St. Mike's, and former Detroit University captain. They supplanted Metras with seventeen first-team votes to Newton's eleven.

EASIEST LINE
The wingline was easiest of all for the selecting corps, which voted Jim Palmer, of Argos, and George Pigeon, of Montreal, to the inside positions; the driving Jokius and Timmis to middles and Wilson and Cutler to outsides. Palmer received twenty-one votes, Timmis twenty, and Jokius topped all players with twenty-five.

One of the great offensive mid-dies of this or any other season, Jokius was rewarded with solid support from every corner of the East.

Turville was the only other performer to approach his total. The Tiger halfback getting twenty-two votes.

Remarkable Backhand Shot From Murray Murdoch Gives New Yorkers 4-3 Victory—Lynn Patrick and Goodfellow in Fist Fight—Amerks Beat Canadiens—Hawks Win

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP).—New York Rangers climbed out of the American Division cellar in the National Hockey League tonight with an amazing comeback that produced a 4-3 overtime victory over Detroit Red Wings in a furiously contested game.

Two goals down in the early part of the third period, the Rangers took advantage of a series of Detroit penalties to even the score and went on to win the closing minutes of overtime play, when Murray Murdoch, the team's iron man, who never has missed a Ranger game, slid up to the cage with Walter Buswell guarding him closely, and flipped the shot behind his back into a corner of the webbing.

The contest was marked by a protest on the Rangers' first goal which resulted in the removal of Goal Judge C. L. Crovat, a fist encounter between Lynn Patrick and Eddie Goodfellow, and a pair of penalty shots. Bun Cook and Goodfellow tried the free shots, but neither connected.

Sorrell, of the Wings, scored the only goal of the first period. Patrick tied it up for Rangers with the one counter of the next frame. Detroit, through Young and Lewis, marched into an early lead in the final period before Murdoch, and then Dillon, again knotted the count.

Plans Under Way For Mix Between Barney and Tony

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP).—Negotiations for a third championship bout between Barney Ross, world lightweight titleholder, and Tony Canzoneri, from whom he won the crown, were under way today. Promoter Joe Foley has Ross, signed for the bout, which would be held in the Chicago Stadium some time in January, and was to confer with Sammy Goldman, Canzoneri's manager, today.

Dizzy Dean Wants $25,000 From the Cardinals Next Season

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 22 (AP).—The price Jerome "Dizzy" Dean will charge the world champion St. Louis Cardinals for his 1935 services will be $25,000—not one cent more or less—he said, tonight.

Dizzy, whose words had a business-like tone that belied his nickname, said that when he was in St. Louis recently Sam Breadon, owner of the Cardinals, and Branch Rickey, business manager, offered him $15,000, and offered his brother, Paul "Daffy" Dean, $7,500, to sign contracts for next season. The Deans refused, Dizzy said. The elder Dean said he didn't know what price Paul would ask for his contract.

The smallest crowd in several seasons, about 4,500, saw Louis Napoleon Trudell, of Edmonton, score the only goal in the second period to give the Stanley Cup holders the edge. Trudell tallied on a pass from Tommy Cook.

The Hawks had much the better of the going, but were stopped, except for Trudell's goal, by Goalsaver Beveridge.

AMHERST, N.S., Nov. 22 (CP).—Denied transfers for imported players, representatives of the four Maritime Hockey League clubs gathered here today and formed the Big Four Mercantile League to play the M.H.L. schedule. The M.H.L. does not go out of existence, however, and the teams—minus the unseasoned imports—will enter play-downs later in the season for Allan Cup competition.

The method of settling the cup play-downs was not determined today, but officials of the M.H.L. adjourned their meeting until December 13, when they will meet again in Amherst.

Adopting the original M.H.L. schedule, the new Big Four Mercantile League decided to recognize all games played already by Moncton Hawks, Halifax Wolverines, Saint John Beavers and Charlottetown Abegweits.

NAMED HEAD
J. A. Hanway, K.C., of Amherst, who heads the M.H.L., was chosen as president of the new league, and Ronald M. Ross, of Amherst, M.H.L. secretary, was elected to a similar position in the new organization.

HOYLE-BROWN WILL BATTLE THE COLONIST

Undeclared Cage Teams to Meet at High School Gym This Evening

Basketball fans, who wend their way to the Victoria High School gymnasium this evening, should witness one of the most attractive hoop programmes presented this season, with the leading clubs battling in two of the three fixtures. In the other game second and third-place quintettes will meet.

Panorium fair sex cagers, who turned in a good exhibition against the Vancouver Province aggregation, Wednesday evening, will be seen in action in the curtain-raiser, when they meet Coach Wally Yeamans' Quintettes, in a women's "B" tussle, at 7:30 o'clock. In their last fixture the Panatoriums finished on the long end of the count, and will be out tonight to turn back the threat of the young Quintettes for a second time. Organized this season, the latter club is holding down second place in the league standing, one game behind their opponents in this evening's encounter.

REGENTS MEET HAWKS

Regents and Black Hawks, smart intermediate "A" boys' quintettes, will meet in the second game, which promises to be keenly contested from the very first whistle. Regents, in second place, two points behind the undefeated Deals, will be out to defeat the Hawks and stay close to the leaders. The Black Hawks, holding down third berth, with two wins and two defeats, are sorely in need of points to keep near the leading clubs in this section.

Appearing in the feature game will be two quintettes, undefeated in local competition, the league-leading Hoyle-Brown aggregation and the Colonist. In their last exhibition, which was against the New Method Laundry squad, the Newies failed to flash their usual form, but since that time the boys have had a number of stiff work-outs under the watchful eye of Coach Art Chapman and are reported to be in top form. The smooth-working Hoyle-Brown quintette has been setting a fast pace in the local league, and will be favored to give last year's champions plenty of trouble.

Earnshaw May Quit Baseball

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22 (AP).—The Evening Ledger today quotes George Earnshaw, Chicago White Sox pitcher, as saying that because he was offered a salary cut in his 1935 contract he is "through with baseball."

"Unless I'm traded," The Ledger quotes Earnshaw as saying, "there is every reason to believe I will not be with Chicago next season. The Sox have sent me a contract calling for a cut in salary."

Earnshaw went to the White Sox in Connie Mack's big day of trading a year ago, when Philadelphia Athletics disposed of Mickey Cochrane, Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg and Max Bishop.

GARDENING FOR TALENT

Frankie Frisch believes in making changes. He was found one day cutting out the Boston Ivy which climbs the wall of his home to make room for the English variety. "He intimated that changes were also needed sometimes in ball clubs."

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX J. MORRISON

Golf is the only game I know in which a fellow seems content to do badly.

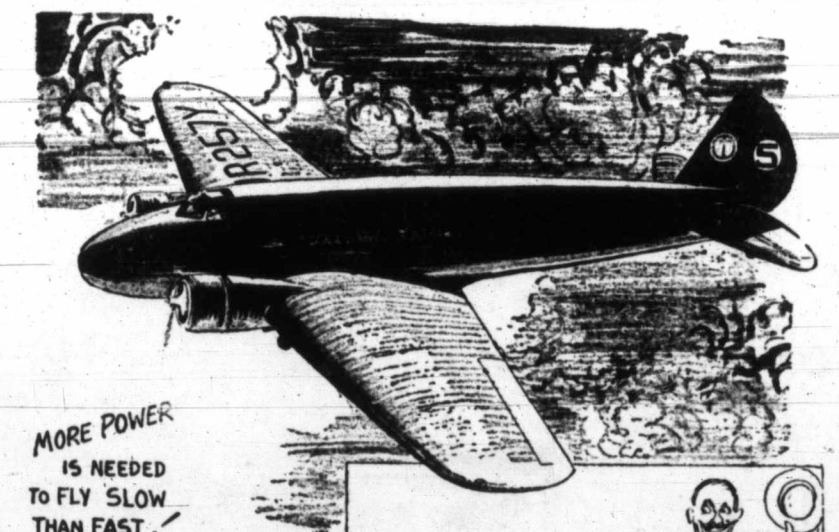

Some of your friends, when playing badly, must have used the old line: "Oh, I just play the game for the fun of it." I'm always reminded of this when I see players using a number eight or a maulie-niblick for a distance of 100 yards.

If they were truly masters of this club, they'd confine us to shorter distances. But they hit a lucky shot with it once and no matter how many they miss, they're willing to try until luck favors them again.

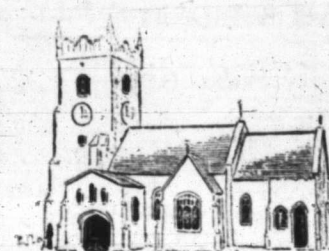

They must not care whether they hit or miss. I insist that all my pupils take a longer club and swing easier. It helps them to improve their swings for all shots.

The inland ship—Show boats are a popular entertainment with folks in the vicinity of the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers, but in Moberly, Mo., they couldn't have a show boat because there was no river, the town being about twenty-five miles from the Missouri. So an enterprising showman built an exact duplicate of a river boat on dry land, and runs a successful business even though the customers can't hear the lapping of the waves on the hull.

Smart Outfielder and Star Southpaw Pitcher Become Members of Chicago Club in Exchange for Guy Bush, Jim Weaver and Babe Herman—Bill Terry Loses Out

By PAUL MICHELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 22 (AP).—The tireless hunt of Chicago Cubs for a first-class southpaw hurler, finally succeeded today at the big major-minor league player mart when they obtained in their long-sought prize, Larry French, along with Outfielder Freddy Lindstrom, in a straight trade with Pittsburgh for Pitchers Guy Bush, Jim Weaver and Outfielder Babe Herman.

In swinging the deal, the Cubs beat Manager Bill Terry, of New York Giants, to the draw. Terry offered Carl Hubbell to the Pirates for Lindstrom and French, and planned to send Lindstrom to the Cubs in exchange for Outfielder Kiki Cuyler.

The Cubs, while still hoping to complete the big reorganization of their hurling staff through the acquisition of Fred Frankhouse, star Boston Brave right-hander, were almost hilariously happy and optimistic tonight over prospects of a National League pennant in 1935.

WANTED CUYLER

The deal for Frankhouse was close to consummation with the Braves ready to part with their star, but insistent on receiving Outfielder Kiki Cuyler and Infielder Woody English in exchange. The Cubs balked on English, offering Stanley Hack, young third baseman, and Cuyler.

Pittsburgh, which has been casting bait for Bush a long time, also was well satisfied, although it disliked to part with French, one of the greatest workhorses of the National League. The Cubs also have sought Lindstrom, a Chicago sandlot product, for years, and planned to convert him back to a third baseman.

Boston Red Sox parted with First Baseman Eddie Morgan today, shipping him to Rochester, of the International League, for an option on Jimmy Brown, a good looking infield prospect.

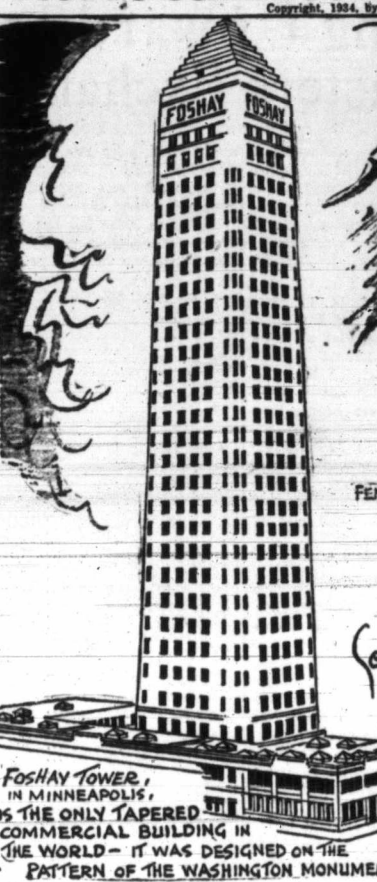

Dayton, Ohio, was awarded the 1935 meeting of the baseball leagues at the concluding business session.

COMPLETE CARD FOR TOMORROW

Four Wrestling Bouts Will Be Presented at Tillicum Gymnasium

With four of the leading middleweights, now campaigning on the Pacific Coast, matched in the two feature bouts, tomorrow's wrestling programme, to be presented at the Tillicum gymnasium, promises to be one of the best shows offered local fans this season. Final details in connection with the card were completed yesterday evening with the matching of Hay and Sten for the curtain raiser, and "Fat" Griffin and Reggie Hopkins for the four-round special event. The first bout is scheduled to start at 8:30.

Danny McDonald, Toronto, and Bob Wagner, New Hampshire, who meet in the eight ten-minute-round main event, are two fast boys well schooled in the grappling pastime. The Canadian is a little heavier, but Bob Wagner's exceptional speed is expected to offset any poundage advantage held by the Toronto grappler.

Gust Johnston, who hails from Rockford, Ill., and Steve Nenoff, Bulgarian exponent of the bone-bending game, who are matched in the five eight-minute-round semi-main event, should present a fast match, with plenty of rough tactics thrown in for good measure. Nenoff, a past master in the art of digging out dirty work, will find his equal in the husky Swede from Rockford.

"Fat" Griffin and Reggie Hopkins, clever local wrestlers, and old-time rivals, will present a lively bout in their special event. Griffin, the heavier of the two, will find plenty of stiff opposition in the lanky Hopkins.

Considerable interest is being shown in the card, and judging by reports of advance sales, a good house should greet the grapplers.

Bodyline Bowling To Be Eliminated In Future Matches

Much Discussed Mode of Delivery Will Be Done Away With by English Cricketers—New Leg-Before-Wicket Rule to Be Given Trial—Australians Are Pleased

LONDON, Nov. 21 (CP).—"Bodyline bowling," which at one time nearly ruptured the ancient cricket relations between England and Australia, received a body blow itself today in the decision of the advisory county cricket committee to endorse the definition of the M.C.C. and eliminate it from the game.

This type of bowling, practised aggressively by Harold Larwood, of Nottingham, was blamed by Australia for costing them victory in the 1932-33 test series, and Australia urgently pleaded for its abolition. The M.C.C., governing body of cricket, after much deliberation, defined it as "that type of bowling regarded as a direct attack by the bowler upon the batsman and therefore unfair," and left it up to the counties.

It consists of systematic pitching of fast, short-pitched balls at a batsman standing clear of his wicket. Today, the county committee endorsed the M.C.C.'s definition and resolved that county captains would take the strongest possible steps in the future to see that this type of bowling be eliminated from the game.

UMPIRES TO AID

The county committee further ruled that umpires in first and second-class county competitions be instructed that they will be strongly supported by the committee in any action they may take to prevent this type of bowling, as now defined, being practised.

The committee also tightened up the leg-before-wicket law. It decided to give a trial during next season to a new leg-before-wicket rule as an experiment. In effect it intercepts a ball coming from the bowler, instead of only balls going directly at the wicket.

The new rule reads: "The striker is out leg-before-wicket if with any part of his person, except his hand, he intercepts a ball which, in the opinion of the umpire at the bowler's wicket shall have been pitched in a straight line from the bowler's wicket to the striker's wicket, or shall have been pitched on the off-side of the striker's wicket and would have hit it."

The last phrase is added to the existing rule.

It was decided to grant an extra bonus to all professionals who played in the last test series with Australia, of $50 a match, with an extra $50 for the match as well. Each county is receiving $7,500 from the proceeds of the test match profits.

AUSSIERS AGREE

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 22 (CP).—Australia met with approval, today, word the English county cricket captains have accepted the M.C.C.'s definition of "bodyline bowling," and have decided to eliminate it in future. Australia herself ruled against bodyline bowling before the M.C.C.'s and considers the Australian ruling has been adopted in principle.

Some of the selectors remarked it was pleasing to see England had sounded the death-knell of bodyline bowling "exploited on the last English visit to Australia as a direct attack on the batsman for the purposes of intimidation." Others expressed some disappointment England had not adopted the Australian rule exactly.

Virginia Vane Says:

CHOOSE FRIENDS WITH CARE WHEN STARTING ANEW

Dear Miss Vane: I am a newcomer to the town in which I live and through an unfortunate experience in my past life I am heart-broken. I am past the age where acquaintances are struck up easily, and though I have made about three friends with my immediate neighbors I do not get invited to the parties and social functions of the town. Only one of my new friends is of the opposite sex, and as I have always been popular with boys I miss their company and wonder what I can do about it. I have met several very nice young men, but they do not seem inclined to call me up nor to be friendly. I am twenty-two—Lonely.

Well, I wouldn't get too desperate about the lack of friends you are now experiencing. You are very young, whether you think so or not, and have lots of time to find that one young man I know you are really looking for.

This is a grand opportunity you now have. You are a completely new personality to this community, and none of your past life need be brought along with you. The mistakes you have made may serve as warnings against repeating them, but only as it serves you may your past life affect you in this new community. You want this new phase of your life to be an improvement, and one very good way to start this improvement is to pick out the right kind of friends. At this point you probably would welcome any kind of playmates, but the danger in this arrangement is that the group you now identify yourself with is going to be the index to your personality from here on. Even though later on you find you have gotten off on the wrong foot, you would not be able to do very much about it without hurting those very people who had befriended you when you needed them. I am not advocating that you become snobbish in your attitude towards your neighbors, but certainly you must be a little particular, for your present desperation might very easily get you in with the wrong crowd. Look ahead, then; see yourself as having lots of friends and the social stand you want. Are the people you are now looking for going to help you attain this social position? If they're not, then it is better that you stay "lonely" for a while until you have an opportunity to meet a better crowd.

When you have analyzed the situation as I have outlined it for you and have found one or two people who are the right sort, it should be fairly easy to attain the popularity you seek. With the few people you do know as a nucleus, arrange to have a party. Let them invite whoever they wish, or if you have someone you would particularly like to ask, it would not be amiss for you to write him a note. In this way you can see you would get to meet many people, and once they have enjoyed your hospitality you may be sure they will return the favor.

KEEP DAUGHTER IN SCHOOL

My Dear Miss Vane: My eldest daughter wants to leave school. She is sixteen, and is now in her second year in high school. She finds it difficult to get good marks in her school work, and claims that algebra, history and the like are not going to fit her to be a housewife. She claims that she will forget everything she is now forcing herself to absorb as soon as she is through with the course, and that the unhappiness it causes her is not worth it. Her best friend left school a year ago and is now engaged to marry one of the boys of the neighborhood. She seems to be happy, and my daughter has the idea that by continuing at school she is wasting valuable time she might devote to housekeeping, which she loves, and the other accomplishments important in a good wife.

My husband is dead, and as I have no one to advise me on the subject I turn to you. I have the money to finance her education, even to a college course. I have two other younger daughters. Thank you for whatever advice you can give me.—Mrs. Beiden.

If it is possible, you must keep your daughter in school. No matter what she has to say on the subject, I know that the best wives and the happiest ones have gone through at least a high school education, and that the girls that couldn't endure the discipline of this training have come to regret it sincerely. It is not so much the algebra, history, English, etc., that one learns at school that makes for a good wife. It is the ability to meet a problem and think it through that makes one better able to cope with the problems of married life. The patience alone that one must employ in understanding these subjects is a very precious contribution to any marriage. And the confidence in one's self created by successfully mastering these courses is something which cannot be taken away and will always serve as a firm basis for one's self-respect.

English is, of course, extremely important to the girl who is looking for an eligible young man. Many's the romance that has been defeated because the girl made the mistake of using "ain't" at the wrong time. Especially if your daughter has any idea that she might one day marry someone a bit above the common run of young men must she develop her ability to converse in good English. Men are quick to notice a girl's failing in this department, perhaps because they are aware of the importance a man's wife plays in his business these days. Many businesses require that a man entertain a great deal, and here it is that his wife's education is put to the test. Some women are blessed with such extraordinary personalities that no matter what they say people will love them. Even if they do become a little at sea when confronted with a two-syllable word, their attractive personalities make such a defect unimportant. This, however, is not the good fortune of the average housewife, and she does very well to master the conventional attributes.

If your daughter hasn't got very high ideals about the husband she is going to have some day, then perhaps she is justified in leaving school at this stage, but if she really wants hers to be a grand marriage and her husband above the ordinary, she had better stick on the books. It is very much up to you to keep her there also, or you may come in for her criticism in later years.

DICE GAMES NOT NEW TO INDIANS

HALIFAX.—Trends of pastime don't change much through the centuries: not in Nova Scotia, anyway. For it appears now that when the Mic-Mac braves of a few centuries ago returned home from a hard day's hunting in the forests, they liked, also, to spread a blanket on the tepee floor and shoot crap.

Well, perhaps not exactly the game we call crap today. But certainly it was some approximation of the gambling dice game, for a complete set of authentic Indian dice has been presented to the Nova Scotia Museum.

ARE REAL "BONES"

They are real "bones"—carved from the boiled shin-bone of a moose. There are six pieces to the set, flat on one side and convex on the other, and with the flat surface inscribed with strange Indian markings. With them the Mic-Macs played a game called "Allestakum." The set came into the possession of the museum after the death of Mrs. Andrew Abram, of the Truro, N.S., reservation. The ninety-three-year-old woman had had them in her possession for a half century.

"The trouble with Smith," said one actor, "is that he is always untidy. He doesn't keep himself clean."

Said another, with a trace of bitterness, "Well, he ought to be clean. He's always sponging."

Hide Mouse Among Jewels in $500,000 Attempt at Fraud

Scotland Yard Detective Sniffs Out Envelope When Called to Case Aboard Ocean Liner—Diamond Necklace Vanishes From Safe

By PIERRE VAN PAASEN
Central Press Canadian Writer

PARIS.—I have just learned how the mystery of the disappearance of a $500,000 diamond necklace from the safe of a giant ocean liner was solved by a mere sniff on the part of George Slothwell, detective of Scotland Yard, after the captain and the officers of the ship were ready in despair to admit the heavy loss. The stunt which came near defrauding the insurance company and the shipping concern of half a million dollars, belongs to one of the cleverest and most daring criminal ventures which the high-sea crooks have carried out in recent years. The details were told me by the chief purser of a liner which plies between New York, Cherbourg and Southampton, and only on the distinct understanding that I mention neither his own name nor that of the boat on which he is an officer.

FIRST DAY OUT

"The first day out of New York," he said, "is always our busiest day. In the travel season the entire journey involves constant vigilance because the safes in the purser's office contain frequently millions of dollars' worth of valuables. One or two of the ship's officers are on guard night and day. The office is not left alone for a moment.

"On one of our last trips we had among our passengers the Duchess of Westminster, who asked us to keep in our safety vault a diadem worth $250,000. On the same trip Princess Radziwov gave a pearl necklace in safe keeping which was worth $300,000, and the Harley sisters, celebrated dancing twins, left their garters, studded with brilliants valued at $35,000. These were the main items on our list which was no less than eight pages long. We had nearly five million dollars' worth of jewels in our safe that time.

WEARING JEWELS

"Just before dinner time on such trips," went on the chief purser, "we are doubly on the alert. Passengers come in one by one, or all in a crowd to withdraw their jewels in order to wear them during the evening. Here is the wife of a French perfume king. Give me my bracelets and pendants," she says. Another lady wants her diamonds.

"They want them quick. But we must unseal the envelopes in which the jewels are contained and ask them to sign for the withdrawal. Yet the ladies are in a hurry and dozens are waiting. Everybody is impatient to withdraw all or part of their treasures.

"On this particular trip of which I am speaking a gentleman hands me a package just after we had left New York and asks me to weigh it. It was eighty grams. He tells me: 'These are diamonds,' and I put his package in an envelope, seal it, have him sign it on the outside and I register him in the

"It was then decided to notify Scotland Yard by wire," the purser continued his story. "Mr. Murtrillo went ashore, but promised to be back on board the same afternoon when the representative from the Yard had arrived. This gentleman, Mr. Slothwell, appeared at 3 o'clock. He had left London immediately upon receiving the captain's wire.

"Mr. Murtrillo was also present when we gathered in my office again. We explained the circumstances of the loss to the detective and handed him the envelope. He took it into his hands, ripped it open and took a good, long sniff at it. Then he turned to Mr. Murtrillo and said: 'You are under arrest, sir!'

THE MOUSE TRICK

"Just a minute," interposed the captain, "Mr. Murtrillo is a first class passenger" . . . "Never mind, sir," came back the detective, "this is too simple. It's the mouse trick. The man you call Mr. Murtrillo gave you a package with a thin cardboard bottom. In the package was a live mouse and a piece of fat pork. When the mouse became hungry it first ate the pork, and then started to dig a hole in the paper bottom, and after that through the envelope. But by that time the envelope was lying in the safe. The mouse escaped from the safe while it was standing open. The disappearance of the pork and the mouse explains the difference in weight at the time of the first weighing and later. I arrest Mr. Murtrillo and charge him with fraud. I think we will be able to tell you later what his real name is."

BRITISH LEAD RUBBER TRADE

Half of World's Plantations Owned or Controlled Under Union Jack

MONTREAL.—Development of rubber from its crude state to the present indispensable product, provides almost as much romance as the discoveries of Christopher Columbus, said W. A. Roberts, in an address to the Montreal Advertising Club.

Charles Goodyear, a Connecticut Yankee, who found rubber could be made constant in all temperatures by the addition of sulphur and heat, is considered one of the great public benefactors of the present age, Mr. Roberts remarked.

Of the world's rubber supply, Mr. Roberts pointed out, 95 per cent is found in the Middle East, in such countries as Sumatra, Java, Malaya, Ceylon, India and Cochin China. The British control and own 50 per cent of the world's rubber plantations, and the Dutch 40 per cent. The remaining acreage is divided among French, Japanese and American companies.
